HUNTING FOR THE DEAD.

The Smoke too Great in the Osceola Mine to Admit of Investigation.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 9.—Ten miners went down the southernmost shaft of the Osceola mine this morning. The men were especially selected from among the fearless and experienced workmen, habituated to breathing power, smoke and foul air. The party descended in the skip, or iron car, used in bringing up rock from the mine, to the twenty-fourth level and managed to press north on that level to within 250 feet of the shaft next to the burning one. At that point two of the party were overcome by the gas, and to save adding fresh victims to the already long list, the relief expedition turned back. In No. 4 shaft at the other end of the mine a similar attempt was made by a carefully organized party, similar to the first, but at a depth of only 280 feet down the shaft smoke was met in such volume that it was foolhardly to descend further and the miners quickly came to the surface.

The experience of the rescuing parties who are in Nos. 1 and 5, where the smoke would naturally be met with in the least quantities, render it certain that the entire mine is now filled with it and cuts off the last hope that the missing men may have been able to preserve their lives. Rescuing parties will be sent down as frequently as possible to test the condition of the mine. It will probably be several days before the mine will be clear of smoke even if the fire has gone out, which is quite doubtful. It is now positively known that twentynine men and boys were caught in the mine. Nineteen of the men were married.

Erie Ready for Its Centennial.

Erie, Pa., September 9.—Erie city is in garlands, bunting and national colors today and triumphal memorial arches to General Wayne, Commodore Perry and General Lafayette adorn the principal streets. Erie centennial, covering a period beginning with the arrival on the peninsula 100 years ago of the family of Colonel Seth Reed, has its central figure in society and wealth that same family in the persons of Mrs. General Charles M. Reed, the third removed from the first settler and her son, Hon. Charles M. Reed. The principal event today was the meeting of the official board of the Pennsylvania division of the League of American Wheelmen. Secretary Van Wort, of Scranton, presided and reported 4,200 league members in the state. Resolutions were adopted asking the manufacture of wheels to encourage league membership by sending blanks in catalogues, contributing membership fees with wheels, etc. There was a grand illuminated wheel parade this evening.

The Remains of Another Flood Victim Found in Johnstown.

The Johnstown Democrat of September 6 says: The remains of a human being, undoubtedly those of a woman of middle age and a victim of the flood of May 31, 1889, were found yesterday afternoon by workmen engaged in digging a cellar at 409 Somerset street, Fifth ward. They were taken to Henderson's morgue, where an examination of bones and clothing was made by Mr. Henderson and his assistant, Mr. Evans, and of the bones in particular by Dr. George W. Wagoner.

Found upon the remains were a black Jersey with black glass buttons, and a black cashmere skirt, leather congress gaiters and black stockings. Worn upon the person and found attached to the remains were two brass crosses, one about three inches and the other one inch in length. Found with the clothing were also two brass medals. The crosses and medals indicate that the deceased was of Catholic faith.

The Suspect Says He is Innocent.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A special to the Journal from Hudson says: Word has been received here of the brutal murder of James De Groff, a resident of the town of Hillsdale, who lived about three miles from Hillsdale village. DeGroff, who was 74 years of age, was found dead by the roadside by his wife with his head crushed and an iron bar covered with blood lying at his side. Martin Grover, a neighbor of De Groff's has been arrested and brought to the Hudson jail on suspicion of being the murderer. Grover says he is innocent.

Two Men Play Ghost.

Nassilon, Sept. 9.—For some time past the residents of Prospect street have been annoyed by what superstitious people called a ghost. Last night Frank Webb and William Conrad, wishing to have some sport, dressed themselves to represent the ghost. Henry Ryder, on his way home, saw the pair and, thinking they were the much-talked of ghost, fired at them. Webb received a flesh wound in his arm and Conrad got a ball in his heel. Neither are seriously, though painfully injured.

SECRET SOCIETIES MEET.

The American Mechanics Are Just Now Much in Evidence.

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—The semi-centennial celebration of the founding of the order of United American Mechanics began here to-day. The order was founded in this city July, 1845, and one of the founders, who is still living, was present to receive an ovation from the members. He is Luther S. Chapin, an old resident of this city, too feeble from advanced years to make an oration but delighted to stand up and shake hands with all that came forward to greet him.

The body of American Mechanics now in the city comprises the national council of the order, made up of three delegates from every state in which there is an organization known as a state council. In addition to the delegates to the national council, a large representation of the order in various states in the eastern section of the country are visiting the city to take part in the celebration.

The sessions of the council were opened in the chamber of city councils in Independence hall this morning by National Councillor W. N. Simons, of Norwalk, Conn., and then an address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Warwick. At the conclusion of the mayor's address the business session of the council began, but it was a short one and confined mainly to the transaction of the preliminary work of organization. The principal event of the celebration to-day was a parade this afternoon in which about 12,000 men took part. The parade was marred by the intense heat and much suffering was experienced by the men in line. After the parade the officers of the national council gave a reception to the loyal legion at the Continental hotel.

Getting Ready for the Big Exhibition.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 10.—Great preparations are in progress to make the opening day at the Cotton States and International exposition—September 18—a tremendous success. Atlanta is already filled with strangers. The governors of half a dozen states will be present, there will be an imposing military parade, and addresses will be made by distinguished gentlemen, the opening oration to be delivered by Judge Emory Speer, of Georgia.

The business houses of the city will close from noon until 4 o'clock, and the whole city will go en masse to Piedmont park. At night the principal attraction will be the electric fountain and Paine's pyrotechnic display on the lake, of the storming of the Chinese fortress at Wei Hai Wei by the Japanese. Saturday, the 21st, will be Blue and Gray Day. Thousands of the veterans from both armies will attend. Everything will be done to make the opening a brilliant success.

People's Party Make Nomination.

Down in Huntingdon on Saturday last there was a meeting of the representatives of the people's party of the county. There were twenty-five delegates in attendance. The platform adopted at Williamsport July 4 was adopted. These nominations were made. For sheriff, W. S. Hamilton of Coalmont; for poor director, J. S. Beaver of Entriken; for county surveyor, Henry Wilson, of Donation; for associate judge R. McDivitt, of Huntingdon. Dr. C. B. Bush was re-elected county chairman and a committee of three was appointed to confer with the Mifflin county conferences with reference to the nomination of a candidate for president judge.

State Millers Meet.

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—The first annua session of the Pennsylvania state Millers' association began this afternoon. To-day's convention, while it is the first since incorporation, is the eighteenth in the history of the body, which constitutes the largest organization of its kind in the country. Its membership of 225 will probably be increased before the close of the convention The convention will last three days and it promises to be of much interest to the grain and flour trade. The convention was opened by the president of the association, Hon. Cyrus Hoffa, and after several addresses of welcome the committees were announced.

Mrs. Talmage's Will.

Brocklyn, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The will of Susan W. Talmage, wife of Rev. Dr. Talmage, was admitted to probate to-day, having been filed shortly after Mrs. Talmage's death on August 5. It bears date of September 30, 1875. The property is valued at $166,000 and goes to Dr. Talmage. The sum, it is said, represents Dr. Talmage's earnings as a lecturer. For years his wife was his manager and his agent, taking charge of all his lecture engagements. Dr. Talmage, his friends say, turned over his lecture earnings to his wife, who had them thereafter absolutely at her disposal.

SPANISH ATROCITIES.

A Beautiful Girl Tortured.

New York, Sept. 6.—Atrocities by Spaniards, as revolting as those committed by the Japanese at Port Arthur, having just been reported to the Cuban revolutionary party in New York. Enrique Trujilio, editor of El Porvenir, received a letter yesterday from Juan Franco, chief of staff under General Maximo Gomez, the commander-in-chief of the insurgent army It is dated "Headquarters in the field, Aug. 3," and sends details of the capture and recapture of the city of Baire, and the massacre of thirty-seven inoffensive Cubans—mostly women and children—by the Spaniards under commander Carrido.

On Tuesday morning, according to Colonel Franco's letter, a company of insurgents under Jose Rabi, surprised the Spanish garrison, in the fortress commanding the city of Baire, killed more than seventy men and took fifty-six prisoners. They captured a large quantity of arms and persuaded the prisoners to enlist in the insurgent ranks. About an hour later three companies of Spanish troops under Commander Garrido came up and after a short but sharp resistance the Cubans fled leaving the fortress again in the hands of the invador.

Soon after the fort had been regarrisoned with Spaniards one of the companies broke loose and began to pillage the city. Commander Garrido himself, Colonel Franco states, led the uninformed rioters. The Spaniards were wild for the spilling of blood. Every human creature who came in their path was ruthlessly slain. Within five minutes the streets of Baire were deserted by the panic stricken natives, but the Spaniards followed them into their houses and killed them in their own rooms.

"Age, sex and condition were wholly disregarded by these liveried butchers," says Colonel Franco. "Old and young women, children—even infants—were slaughtered. Shocking indignities were offered to the unfortunate victims before and after death. The Spanish soldiers stamped on the bodies of those whom they had slain and ground their heels into the faces of many who were still living.

"Senorita Dolores Madera, a beautiful girl of 18, betrothed to one of Captain Rabi's lieutenants, was seized on the street, cruelly beaten, repeatedly stabbed with bayonets and brutally insulted.

"One of Garrido's captains commanded the girl to renounce her cuban sweetheart and swear loyalty to the Spanish government. She scornfully refused, whereupon the captain struck her across the face with his sword, inflicting a terrible gash. With blood streaming down her face, she taunted the Spaniards with their cowardice. Thereupon the maddened soldiers seized her, bound her hand and foot, threw a noose around her neck, and hanged her to a tree. The torture of Senorita was prolonged as much as possible. While she was still alive, but no longer conscious, her body was riddled with bullets."

Murder Results From a Quarrel.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8.—Frederick Stiefel and Jacob Theobalt quarreled in the back yard of their boarding house, No. 156 Brown street, this morning with the result that Theobalt disemboweled Stiefel with some sharp instrument and injured him so badly that he died in a few hours. Theobalt was arrested as was also fourteen inmates of the boarding house, they being taken as witnesses. At a hearing to-day Theobalt was held without bail and five of the witnesses were held in $500 each. Theobalt and his victim had been drinking. No weapon was found upon Theobalt and the police believe the murderer threw away the instrument, the nature of which is not known, prior to his arrest.

Serious Explosion of Gas.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 10.—An explosion of gas occurred in No. 11 colliery at Plymouth to-day. William D. Davis, a well known miner, was seriously burned on the face and hands. His laborer, Sidney Pherne, was burned on the back and hands. He had only worked in the mine a few days and came to Plymouth from Georgia about a month ago.

Will Be the First Patient.

Greenfield, Mass., Sept. 8.—Rev. Dr. Francis L. Robbins, of Philadelphia, fell down stairs at his home, breaking his left wrist and badly bruising his head and body. The house is to be opened tomorrow as the new Franklin county hospital. Mr. Robbins cannot be moved for several days and he will be the first patient in the hospital.

If your blood is the cause of that tired languid feeling. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes rich, red blood and gives renewed vigor.

MINERS LOSE THEIR LIVES.

Fire Starts in Shaft No. 3 of the Osceola Mines, Calumet, Mich.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 7.—At about 3 o'clock this afternoon fire broke out in the shaft of the Osceola mine, and at this time it is more than probable that forty men and boys have been burned to death or suffocated. The names of the men known to be in the mine are as follows:

Trembath, mine boss; Richard Bricket, Michael Johnson, Richard Grenfell, Michael Schulte, John Matzen, William Bryant, Francis Lander, Alexander Danfell, John Cudlip, Thomas Curtis, Robert Johns, Peter Martin, Joseph Saghte, James Harrington, William Donald, Barney Elgore, Antone Seezweak, all miners, and Peter Stangard and Walter Dohle, drill boys.

The fire started in shaft No. 3, which is used to carry the miners to the surface from the mine, and when the fire broke out all of the men and boys employed in the mine, about 200, made a rush for the shaft in the hope of being taken to the surface. The fire was too rapid for them, however, and the chance of escaping by the shaft was entirely cut off by flame and smoke.

The majority of the imprisoned miners made a break for a cross cut, and in this way managed to reach another shaft, from which they were taken to the top. Forty were missing when the roll was called.

Terrible Dynamite Explosion.

Dubuque, Ia., Sept. 8.—Five persons were blown to instant death and three injured by an explosion of dynamite at Specht's Ferry, ten miles from this city on the riverside, at 7 o'clock this morning. The dead are: Edward Latshaw, wife and two children and Hans Bjornstad. The injured are: Mabel Latshaw, aged 15, still unconscious, but may recover; Matt Faber, will die; Ed. Bench, eye knocked out.

The government is building wing dams on the opposite side of the river and stone is being quarried there for the purpose. Latshaw had a large low shanty where the quarrymen are boarded and in one end of this shanty were stored 150 pounds of dynamite.

After breakfast a son of Latshaw was firing at a target near the entry and was told to stop by the foreman, but he went on and soon the explosion occurred. The concussion was felt for miles. The shanty was blown into splinters and the Specht residence and depot were badly damaged. A special train was at once sent from here which brought the injured to the hospital.

Ir is not surprising that the Trades Union Congress at Cardiff should adopt a resolution expressing sympathy with the German working men and condemning the attiude of the Emperor towards the press. The Cardiff gathering was largely represented of modern Socialism, and the German administration is typical of the opposite extreme of class rule. The German people themselves are of a libera mind, but their intense loyalty to their rulers enables the Emperor to maintain his iron will practically without hindrance. Had his father lived there would have been greater promise of substantial amelioration of the grievances of the German working men. The "War Lord", however, is chiefly concerned to know what kind of a soldier the working man will make.

A Chief Overhauled.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 8.—A cablegram was received by E. W. Mann, from Joannsburg, South Africa, announcing that Charles White was in custody at that place. White is the man who became famous as the husband of Mrs. Nagle, of this, city, by stealing about $150,000 in money, bonds and valuables. He was arrested in New York a couple of days ago and was released under bonds, pending actions on a requisition from the governor of Wyoming. He jumped his bonds and disappeared, since which time nothing had been heard from him.

Shot Through the Heart.

Champaigne, Ills., Sept. 9.—Jacob Kizer, an ex-policeman, was shot and killed here Saturday night. He was returning home when he saw a man lying in the gutter. Kizer told him he had better get up and go home. Without a word the man shot Kizer through the heart. The police arrested a man in the vicinity who had a revolver of the same calibre as the bullet that ended Kizer's life, and with one barrel empty. The prisoner, who is a stranger, refuses to tal.

Crook Allen Arrested.

Springfield, Mo., Sept. 8.—The postoffice swindler held here under an arrest as Hogan on examination last night before United States Commissioner Silsby, turns out to be the crook Allen, wanted for robbing the postoffice at Springfield, Ill., and who recently escaped from Ludlow street jail in New York and for whom large rewards are offered by the authorities.

READY FOR THE VETERANS.

Louisville in Gala Attire for the Coming of the Grand Army.

Louisville Ky., September 8.—The Falls City announced to-day that she was prepared to greet the advancing hosts of the Grand Army. At 3 o'clock this afternoon Director General John H. Milliken stated that the last detail had been completed, and that they now only await the coming of the guests for whose welcome and entertainment they had been planning and working since New Year's day.

The cherished plan of having the veterans of the blue and gray meet in good fellowship on southern soil since the stirring days of the sixties, is on the eve of realization and gorgeously has Louisville arrayed herself for the occasion. In all directions "Old Glory" in tens and hundreds of thousands are floating for patriotism, peace and welcome. Never since the war, in a southern city, at least, have the stars and stripes been more in evidence on a festive occasion. For streamers and festooning the favorite combination of bunting is the blue and gray, a combination never seen before at a national encampment. While portraits of the gallant men of the confederacy have been for the week relegated to the back ground here and there a picture of Lee or Longstreet is to be seen but the features of Lincoln and Grant, of Sherman and of Sheridan, of Hancock and of McClellan and Logan on canvas and on paper, all wreathed in the stars and stripes, by the thousands, look down from fronts of buildings or look out of windows upon the passers by. So far as outward signs are concerned, no greater demonstration of patriotic sentiment could be made even by a city north of Mason and Dixon's line.

The Watches Identified.

The Mifflintown Democrat and Register says: "The four watches and empty case found in the river on Tuesday afternoon of last week, have been identified as the property of J. F. Kauffman, of Belleville, Mifflin county. Mr. Kauffman, whose store was robbed on the 28th of last March and who identified as his property several watches that were thrown in the river at the time Joseph West, Frank Evans and Edward Parker were arrested in that town, charged with the Hertzler store robbery in this county last April, came to this place on Monday to attend court as a witness against Parker, the only one of the three to be tried, West and Evans having escaped from the county jail on Sunday morning, July 21st. On Monday evening Mr. Kauffman's attention was called to the finding of the watches in the river here by George and Charles Burge. The watches were shown him by the attorneys for the prosecution, and after examination he said they were part of the goods carried off at the time his store was robbed, and identified them not only by appearance, but by the numbers of the same, as he had a numbered list of all the watches kept in stock. This fact was employed by the Commonwealth in their case before court against Parker, and was a strong circumstance against the accused."

Table Talk.

So many are the questions asked daily at the book counters of our large stores for new cook book or a new book on the proper manner of serving, that, for the benefit of such inquirers, we would mention that bright little monthly magazine, TABLE TALK, whose chief aim is to aid housekeepers over these rough places and is considered the American authority upon all subjects of interest in the home. It is published in Philadelphia, and a line to the office there, mentioning where you saw this notice will secure a sample copy, free. The September issue contains a valuable article by Marion Talbot, Dean o Chicago University, on "Domestic Science in the Colleges." In addition to the regular departments, "The Housekeepers' Inquiries," "The New Bill of Fare," and "Fashionable Luncheon and Tea Toilets," "New Menus for September," and the market list, there will be found articles on hardwood floors and their care, the lemon, mention of books for September reading, and so on.

A Pitiable Case.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 9.—A pitiable case came to the notice of the authorities in this city to-day. Josephine Acker, a Polish girl met a young man in Minneapolis who called upon her for awhile and when she demanded justice he deserted her. She followed him to this city and he stated that when he drew his pay on the Lehigh Valley railroad he would marry her. He then placed her in one of the dives here, and when he drew his money left town. The girl found out the character of the place in which she had been placed, and then sought the advice of Alderman Donohue, who is making an effort to have her cared for.

INDIAN FIGHTS IN ALASKA.

Two Bucks Shot Dead and a Squaw Badly Wounded.

Seattle, Sept. 9.—Advices from Alaska by Steamer Wilipa, which arrived in Portland last evening, state the Chilkoot and Chilkat Indians engaged in a free fight near Dyes recently, during which two Indians were shot dead and a squaw badly wounded.

The cause of the bloody affray was whisky, and it is feared that more bloodshed will follow, owing to the lawless and warlike nature of the Chilkats.

In an editorial the Alaska News says that the continued state of lawlessness in the neighborhood of the Chilkats and Chilkoots should receive attention from the federal authorities. Scarcely a canoe lands at Chilkat but has whisky aboard.

British Columbia Indians come from Fort Simpson, and, with perfect impunity, trade the Hudson Bay blankets and Hudson Bay rum for furs. The white residents should have some protection, and are loud in their demands for a local deputy marshal.

Duplicate Money Orders.

The postoffice department has been put to considerable trouble lately by the issuance of duplicate money orders for those alleged to have been lost, misdirected or possibly stolen by dishonest clerks. All duplicates have to be issued by the department at Washington, and last year application was made for the issuance of more than 30,000 such orders. The department finds that in many cases both the original and the duplicate have been paid, and in some cases suit has had to be brought to recover the money. In order to obviate such entanglements in the future, First Assistant Postmaster General Jones, at the solicitation of the auditor, has adopted a rule not to issue duplicates in the future until the expiration of sixty days from the date of the original money order, thereby affording time for the receipt at the auditor's office of the money order statements of paying postmasters, and an opportunity to examine such statements to ascertain whether the original orders have been paid.

This may work a hardship in some cases among those who can ill afford to wait the period of sixty days on account of the mistakes of their correspondents, but it is held at the postoffice department that the general good of the whole service demands the enforcement of the new regulations.

The Devices of Malefactors.

The ingenuity of the Montreal firebugs, just brought to light, was worthy of a better cause. A combination of chemical and mechanical inventions such as the Montreal police have discovered to be used for the base purposes of arson might have secured honor and riches for the criminals if employed to some useful end.

The energy and device of crime is a puzzle. Dr. Fraker, the recently captured insurance swindler, gave to an unsuccessful attempt at fraud enough privation, ingenuity and effort to have made him successful in an honorable calling. Holmes, the extraordinary, in his career of wholesale murder and swindling, displayed enough intelligence, inventive talent, enterprise and executive ability to have earned more money honestly than he got from all his schemes. Holmes and Fraker are in prison awaiting retribution and the Montreal firebugs are likely to soon be in the same position.

The mystery is why such men court disgrace and punishment instead of directing their efforts to secure honor and comfort. The only explanation is that the way of the crook is crooked and his mental processes are warped like his path.

Morton as the Government Buffoon.

Washington, September 9.—Secretary Morton has in his possession a financial object lesson recently sent him by a prominent manufacturing firm of silversmiths in New York. It consists of two chamois skin bags, one of which contains a piece of silver .996 fine, the size of a dollar, and containing 480 grains of silver. This costs fifty-six cents, while the actual silver dollar contains but 412½ grains of .907 fine silver. The contrast drawn by the secretary is formed in the smaller bag, which contains a tiny piece of gold, of the exact weight and fineness of a dollar, and this cost him $1.15. The two pieces of metal attracted a great deal of curiosity about the department today.

Will Meet at Butler.

The Presbyterian synod of Pennsylvania which met in Tyrone last year, will meet in annual session this year in the Butler Presbyterian church on Thursday, October 17, and the present indications are for a week's session. The synod is one of the largest the church has and will be attended by probably 300 ministers and elders.

Shiftless Trick for a Farmer.

To plant more acres than can be taken care of.

To work with poor tools, and to sow poor seed.

To buy at public sales what is not needed because it sells cheap.

It is shiftless to keep poor stock. A poor cow eats as much as a good one

To raise frogs and mosquitos in the front yard. To have a pig wallow in the road near the gate.

To allow the barnyard to drain into the public road, or into a stream. Many farmers are guilty of this.

To plant an orchard and then allow cattle to browse the trees; to leave vacant places in a young orchard; to allow a young orchard to remain in grass.

It is shiftless to allow weeds to occupy any portion of the farm, and very shiftless to allow bushes to occupy several rods of ground along the fence rows.

It is thoughtless and a very dangerous thing for a farmer to put his name on paper presented by a stranger. Also, too, on the notes of friends and neighbors.

It is a short sighted policy to elect to the the township and county offices the men who cannot support themselves in ordinary pursuits of life. It is also costly.

It is reckless to buy trees of an utter stranger; also, groceries, spices and such articles as can easily be adulterated. Nine times out of ten one will be cheated by so doing.

It is a shiftless trick to employ the teacher who will work for the least wages. It is as bad to leave a family of boys and girls to grow up without good books and papers.

It is a heartless thing for a farmer to allow his wife to work sixteen or eighteen hours, when his own work is completed in ten hours. On the farm as elsewhere husband and wife should be equal partners.

To wade through mud to the barn and outbuildings when good dry paths can easily be made. To pay heavy doctor bills for wife and children because their feet had become wet through lack of good paths.

One of the most sensible demands made by the American Bar Association at its recent meeting in Detroit was for uniform suffrage laws in all the States of the Union. The patchwork laws on the subject now in existence are illustration of the carelessness with which the highest privilege of a freeman is regarded. In a few States there is an educational qualification, while in most States ignorance has the same rights at the polls as intelligence. The laws in regard to voting, however, show the greatest irregularity. A residence of five years in the country and a certain time after declaring intentions are demanded in part of the State before a man can vote, but in many States only a few months' residence or a year at the most is asked before a man can vote for State officers. But as this includes voting for members of the Legislatures which elect United States Senators it follows that aliens who are not citizens take part in making laws for the nation. In the South also, the suffrage laws are of the most anomalous character. This confusion should end and uniformity take its place, as the Bar Association demands.

The Mount Lebamon Shakers have recently perfected an ingenious cure for dyspepsia. Their Digestive Cordial consists of a food already digested and digester of foods happily combined.

The importance of this invention will be appreciated when we realize what a proportion of the community are victims of some form of stomach trouble. Thousands of pale thin people have little inclination to eat, and what they do eat causes them pain and distress.

This Digestive Cordial of the Shakers corrects any stomach derangement at once. It makes thin people plump. Every one will be greatly interested to read the little book which has been placed in the hand of druggists for free distribution.

THE only fault to be found with the Morgan syndicate, that has so skilfully kept the gold reserve in the Treasury constantly replenished, is that this very care tends to keep alive the delusion that there is some special magic about the figures of one hundred millions. This is a purely arbitrary limit. If there were a run on the Treasury for gold, a hundred millions would melt away in no time. But custom and common consent have fixed this as about right sum to keep on hand. Daily fluctuations around this figure are of no possible importance, unless fictitious importance be given them by having attention constantly fixed on the exact amount This makes ignorant people uneasy without cause.

Relief In Six Hours.

Distressing Kidney and Bladder disease relieved in six hours by the "New Great South American Kidney Cure." This new remedy is a great surprise on account of its exceeding promptness in relieving pain in the bladder, kidneys, back and every part of the urinary passages in male or female. It relieves retention of water and pain in passing it almost immediately. If you want quick relief and cure this is your remedy. Sold by F. Potts Green, Druggist, Bellefonte, Pa. 6-20-1y.

Received His Commission.

On Thursday morning H. C. Quigley received his commission from Governor D. H. Hastings as Captain of Company B, 5th Reg. N. G. P. As Captain Quigley was only elected on the 2nd of August, his commission arriving so soon is the best testimonial of his efficiency.

IN A BAD WAY.

Civil Service Laws Violated and Officials Are in Trouble.

Pittsburg, Pa., September 4.—United States Marshal Walker returned from Erie today, where he went to arrest Assistant Postmaster Evisch, of Erie, for violation of the civil service laws. Marshal Walker also took into custody two men named Leivie and Bruce, candidates for civil service examination. Each of the men gave bail in the sum of $1,000 for their appearance at the next term of the United States district court. Besides being assistant postmaster, Evish is secretary of the civil service examining board of the Erie district and has been a trusted employe in the Erie postoffice sixteen years. His present trouble came about through his breaking the seal of an official envelope and giving to Leivie and Bruce a list of the questions on the night prior to their final examination by the board. Both candidates worked hard at night and both passed the examination with an average of 100. Bruce gave the secret information to a friend and the latter reported the case to the department at Washington. Evisch admits the charge, the penalty for which is imprisonment and fine.

NEW DISCOVERY.

Among the many discoveries of the present age, none rank higher than the new metal silvereen, which owing to its great durability and cheapness is bound to take the place of silver in the manufacture of fine tableware.

Silvereen is a beautiful white metal, will not tarnish or rust, and all goods made from it are warranted.

We want every one to have a chance to compare silvereen with silver, so for the next sixty days we are going to give away one half dozen Crown Silver Tea Spoons Free, to every person who will send for one of our Terry's Silvereen sets, containing six Tea Spoons, one Sugar Shell, one Butter Knife. If at any time the Silvereen goods do not prove satisfactory, return them and your money will be refunded. Remember we give you the Silver Spoons.

Price of Silvereen set, $2.00. f7-2y.

Carlisle Itching for Office.

Nashville, Tenn., September 4.—A special from Clarksville says that Mrs. Carlisle has written to a friend in Christian county, Ky., that Secretary Carlisle is a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, and will have his name placed before the party as the present administration's favorite. Further than a general statement that this is true, none of the communication's details are given, except that such prospective candidacy is the reason for Secretary Carlisle's support of Nominee Hardin, in Kentucky, along with the assistance of all the administration forces.

The Yacht Race Programme.

New York, Sept. 4.—The America's cup committee announced the official program for the races between Valkyrie III and Defender this afternoon. The races will be started at 11 a. m. from Sandy Hook lightship on alternate days, beginning September 7, wind and weather permitting.

The first, third and fifth races will be sailed to windward or leeward, and return, and the second and fourth over an equatorial triangle. All races will be thirty miles, with a time limit of six hours, and the best three races in five will decide.

Sea Shore Excursion.

The last Sea Shore excursion of the season will leave Bellefonte, Monday morning, Sept. 9th, at 7.40 a. m., via the Central R. R. of Pa., and the Reading's "Royal Route to the Sea." Tickets good for ten days and permitting stop off in Philadelphia going and returning within the limit, $5.75 for the round trip. This is your last opportunity to take a trip of over seven hundred miles at this nominal rate.

Bucknell University.

Bucknell university, at Lewisburg, will open Sept. 12th, with a largely increased attendance; the Freshman class will be larger this year than usual. The foot ball team will go into training the afternoon of opening day under a coach from one of the big teams. There will be lots of new material on hand and the eleven promises to be the strongest the Varsity ever sent out.

The Anatomy of an Oyster.

Every oyster has a mouth, a heart, a liver, a stomach and other necessary internal organs, including a set of cunningly devised intestines. The mouth is at the small end of the oyster's body, near the hinge of the shell. It is oval in shape, and, though not readily discovered by an unpracticed eye, may be easily located by gently pushing a blunt bodkin or similar instrument along the folds of the surface of the body at the place mentioned. Connected with the mouth is the canal which the oyster uses in conveying food to the stomach, from whence it passes into the curious little set of netted and twisted intestines referred to in the opening. To discover the heart of an oyster, the fold of flesh which oystermen call the 'mantle,' must be removed. This is fatal to the oyster, of course, but in the interest of science and for the benefit of the "curious," is occasionally done. When the "mantle" has been removed the heart, shaped like a crescent or horned moon, is laid to the view. The oyster's heart is made up of two parts, just like that of a human being, one of which receives the blood from the gills and the other drives it out through the arteries. The liver is found in the immediate vicinity of the heart and stomach and is a queer-shaped little organ, which is supposed to perform all the functions of a blood fibre.

A Good Job.

Messrs. Crape & Lee, well drillers of Centre Hall, have just completed the drilling of a highly satisfactory water well on the Humes farm on which resides Mr. George W. Kaup, at Fernhurst, near town. For several days past they have apparently had sufficient water for farm purposes, but the pluck of Mr. Humes and the wish of the drillers pushed on to see what might be further down. Wednesday evening of this week the heavy drill broke through a long contested rock and up rose a hundred and fifteen feet of cold crystal water to the great satisfaction of the parties concerned. The well is two hundred and thirty-five feet deep and Mr. Humes congratulates the drillers, and they congratulate him, on the amount of very cold water obtained.

Will Get Dollar for Dollar.

A meeting of the creditors, depositors and stockholders of the Bank of DuBois was held Saturday last and matters were arranged whereby the creditors are to be paid dollar for dollar. James E. Long, M. W. Wise, P. S. Weber and L. A. Brady will convey and assign over certain properties for the benefit of the creditors. Hugh McCullough has been selected to dispose of the property thus handed over which will net 50 per cent. of all claims within the next two months, and eventually the other 50 per cent. will be paid.

Will Go to Farming.

Mr. John C. Miller, of this place, who officiates as private secretary for W. Fred Reynolds, has decided to go to the country. Mr. Reynolds owns no less than fifteen farms in Nittany Valley which requires considerable attention, and he has concluded to put his best man, John C. Miller, in charge of them. Mr. Miller and family will move out to one of the farms April 1st 1896. John says he dosen't know much about farming but he cant see why he cant learn, even in his declining years.

"WE boast of having liberated 4,000,000 slaves. True, we have stricken the shackles from the former bondsmen and brought all laborers to a common level, but not so much by elevating the former slaves as by practically reducing the whole laboring population to a state of serfdom. While boasting of our noble deeds we are careful to conceal the ugly fact that by our iniquitous monetary system we have nationalized a system of oppression more refined but none the less cruel, than the old system of chattel slavery."—Horace Greeley.

Eight Tramps Possibly Killed.

Norristown, Pa., Sept. 5.—It is now believed that at least eight tramps met their death early this morning by the burning of a large barn belonging to the Pennsylvania Railroad company near Earnest station, in Plymouth township. Six bodies have already been recovered, and the debris has not all been cleared away. The barn had been a rendezvous for tramps for years, and as many as seventy-five have slept there at one time. Whether or not the barn was set on fire by accident is not known.

Reform at Home.

Good roads, like charity, should begin at home. People everywhere are beginning to realize that good roads have a cash value. Properly constructed highways not only add immeasurably to the pleasure of the people but to their profits as well.

The farmers who have for many years been organizing for the purpose of securing better and cheaper railroad transportation for their marketable products, are now becoming awake to the fact that a great reform is needed right at home. An unnecessary and a very expensive evil has been permitted to exist at their very doors. They have been wasting much valuable time and horse flesh in getting products to market. They have learned that it costs more to haul a load to a station a few miles away than it does to have it transported from the station to the faraway sea boards.

This along the line of profit. In the way of pleasure they have suffered an immeasurable loss. Because of poor roads they have been more or less isolated from the world and deprived of the princeless advantages that come from association. The farmers' sons, unable to readily get to and from the villages, have gone to the villages and cities to remain. So have many of the daughters. The lack of society has been a blight upon rural life, robbing it of the flower of its youth. The same would be true of cities to a great degree if there were no good means of getting about.

The farmers are going to do better, and the merchants in all the country towns will, if they are all wise, gladly do their share towards making good roads.

The good roads town catches the trade.

A good road is a thing of beauty and a joy forever. And, besides, it pays.—Good Roads.

The recent downpour of rain in Missouri Illinois and Indiana was perhaps more copious than was required for immediate use better too much than too little, and if the rain wave shall cross the Allegheny Mountain eastward there will be general rejoicing.

The staple crops of the country are probably beyond the danger of further serious injury from drought, but the parched fields and lawns need a refreshing rain.

The farmers and dairymen are already compelled to feed the cattle that should this season be able to obtain abundant nourishment in the pasture fields.

The wells, springs and streams also need replenishing if a water famine is to be averted. There is ample room for an extension of the Indianapolis storm to this section and the amount of good it would do is simple incalculable.

To the Delicate and Malarious.

The most incredulous are convinced of the virtues of Aunt Rachel's Malaria Peruvian Bark Bitters upon a trial of them. Their base is Speer's Port Wine, with herbs and roots so favorably known to the Medical Profession and the community at large as the best cure for Malaria. They are all that can be desired by the most feeble victims of Malaria. Physicians prescribe them.

THE NAIL WORKS TO START.

James Bailey, of Harrisburg, Has Leased the Plant for Sure.

At last, after a long season of waiting Bellefonte is to experience a business boom that will amount to something. The Harrisburg Nail Company, James Bailey manager, has leased the plant for an indefinite time and a letter received this morning by Mr. Isaac Mitchell, contained the information that the works would be put into operation at the earliest possible moment. The plant will be run to its fullest capacity, and will likely be enlarged. It will be if the anticipations of the lessees are fulfilled. It is their belief and expectation that they can make nails in Bellefonte cheaper than they can be made in the mills at Harrisburg, and if this proves to be the case, then the entire manufacturing of nails by this company will probably be done in this place.

It is almost needless to say anything as to the good news this will be to everybody, after all these years of weary waiting. While it was in operation the nail plant was one of Bellefonte's best industries, and its closing down was felt by the entire community. Now that there is a certainty of its resumption there will undoubtedly be a general rejoicing by everyone who has the welfare of the town at heart. And the starting of these works may be an incentive to others to start up here.

An Important Congress.

The Mexico-Legal Congress in session in New York is an important gathering. As was well stated by the chairman yesterday, the two great professions represented in the congress deal with no more important questions than those which bring them on common ground—the consideration of sociology and crime. The influences that lead to the commission of crime and the individual responsibility for its commission are the province of medico-legal discussion and determination.

The papers and discussions of the congress are worthy of the representatives of great professions. They deal more with the possibility of prevention than with the treatment or punishment of criminals. Individual interests are lost sight of in the effort to secure the good of all mankind.

It is only within comparatively recent years that law and medicine have joined hands, to the end that justice be tempered with mercy aad criminals be devided into classes. A new era is dawning as a result. Disease is not now so much treated with penal sentences, nor does crime escape so easily for treatment in the hospitals. Yet all this sinks into comparative insignificance when compared with the joint work of these professions to intercept crime, to prevent its commission and to limit the contagion of criminal influences. There is much yet to be accomplished and the joint congresses are furthering the subject.

Died on Thursday.

Everybody will be pained to learn of the death of Miss Kate Gross, daughter of Mrs. Barbara Gross, which occurred at that ladies' residence on Thursday evening at about 5,15 o'clock, and after an illness of only a couple weeks. Until about a year ago Miss Gross had been making her home in Philadelphia, but since that time she has been at her home in this place. Although she has not enjoyed the best of health for some time it was not until recently that she became seriously ill, and her life despaired of. She was just thirty years old on Thursday, and is survived by five sisters and two brothers. The funeral took place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, services to be held in the Catholic church, of which deceased was a member.

Death of Samuel Davis.

Last monday Samuel Davis died at his home at Linden Hall, after a long illness. Several years ago he was seriously injured by jumping from a rapidly moving passenger train near Linden Hall, and sustained injuries to the brain which unsettled his mind. For some time past he was closely confined to a room, and never recovered. The funeral took place Thursday forenoon, interment being made in the Centre Hill cemetery.

Is Finally Settled.

The little difference which has been hanging fire between the telephone company and the subscribers over in Penns-valley has finally been settled by each party getting what they wanted. That is, the subscribers get the reduced rate, to three dollars a month, net rate, while the company gets an additional number of subscribers, six each on the State College and Boalsburg line and on the Centre Hal and Spring Mills line. This will also give better service to the town subscribers as well.

They Call It Overwork.

Business requires a clear head; yet how few business men—with all their sense—realize what is the trouble with their heads. They call it over-work, worry, anything but what it really is—indigestion. This stealthiest of ailments usually comes disguised as something else. Wouldn't you be convinced if a box of Ripans Tabules cleared your head and brigetened up the business outlook?

Prizes Awarded.

Last Saturday the Zion band held a festival in Gentzel's woods and the result was that it was a grand success. During the evening the following prizes were awarded: Simon Hockenbury, Nigh Bank, a handsome lamp; Mrs. M. D. Gerbrick, Bellefonte, a watch; Dennis Kane, Axe Mann, a table.

AN HISTORIC INSTITUTION.

Such is the Bellefonte Academy—Prof. Huges, Its Principal.

The founders of Bellefonte donated certain lands in the borough for the support of an academy. The first meeting of the trustees took place on the first Monday in May, 1795, An act of the legislature passed Jan. 9, 1806, appropriated $2,000 for the erection of an academy building, and provided that at least six poor children should be educated gratis.

Rev. James P. Hughes, present principal of the academy, was born at Cape May N. J. At an early age he entered the Tuscarora academy, at Lewistown, where he prepared for college. He entered Princeton college as a sophomore in 1847, graduating there from in 1850. He then entered the theological seminary at Princeton and graduated from the same in 1853. He taught in the Luzerne Presbyterial institute three years after which he taught in the Edge Hill school, at Princeton, until 1865, in which year he was elected principal of the Logansport academy, at Logansport, Ind., where he remained until he was elected principal of the Bellefonte academy, March 22, 1868.

During all the time of Prof. Hughes teaching he has preached in the various churches in his locality as a supply to fil vacancies in the pulpit, with great acceptancy. During his 40 years teaching, 30 of which was spent in Pennsylvania, he has prepared pupils for all the leading colleges the naval school at Annapolis, the West Point military school, besides many prominent teachers of the public schools.

Among those who graduated from this institution might be mentioned Chancellor McGill, who in all probability will receive the Democratic nomination for governor in New Jersey; General Frank Reeder; secretary of the commonwealth; Colonel E. A. Irvin, a leading business man of Curwensville; Hon. Joseph Wood, of Lewistown, one of the leading members of the legislature.

Prof. Hughes is fond of the chase and three pair of beautiful buck horns grace his private sitting room as trophies of his skill as a hunter. During his life he has systematically kept up in his youthful pleasures, such as skating, swimming, ball playing, fishing and hunting, which he claims keeps him in such remarkable good health. He is also the most graceful rider in the county.—Howard Hornet.

Attracts Lightning.

Statistics show more well-filled barns to be destroyed by lightning than empty ones—that is, the risk after harvest is greater than before. The department at Washington investigated and gives reasons as follows: Before harvest the stalks of growing grains and grasses, with their many points and heads, act as conductors of electricity and serve as discharging points, to some degree neutralizing the electric stress in the air. After harvest the fields are more or less bare, and the electric tension must be relieved through buildings and prominent features in the andscape.

Drowning Accident at Jersey Shore.

Dr. Grant L. Keyser, a prominent dentist of Jersey Shore was drowned in the river there yesterday while fishing.

In company with a companion he rowed up the stream and located at a point where the water was only a foot deep. While standing in the boat the doctor lost his balance and was precipitated into the water. He strangled, and before he could be removed from the water was beyond aid. He was 53 years old, and leaves a family.

TWO MYSTERIOUS MEN.

They Tear up Furniture and Greatly Alarm People of Brushvalley.

The people of Rebersburg are considerably alarmed over the actions of two mysterious characters who appeared at the home of Joseph Spangler, tenant on J. J. Gramley's farm, on Tuesday evening when only the daughter of Mr. Spangler and an infant child were at home, and upset the beds in the house, tore down the window blinds and the pictures from the wall, upset the milk crocks in the cellar and left the house in a perfect state of chaos.

Mrs. Spangler's neighbors came and helped her restore her house to order and remained with her until nine o'clock when one of the scamps was again detected in trying to gain an entrance into the house but were scared away by Mr. Spangler. The men in the vicinity were notified and a number of them came armed with guns and remained all night to protect the family.

On Wednesday morning between five and six o'clock, after the watchers had left and Mr. and Mrs. Spangler, accompanied by their hired man, had gone to the barn to do the chores, the wretche again appeared, entered the house by breaking in a front window and upset all the beds but those in which the children slept, and tore up things in worse shape than they had left them the evening before. The instant they were seen they disappeared in a corn field close to the house and have not been seen since.

One of the men is described as being about 5 feet 8 inches in height and wears a black hat and dark shirt. The other is not quite as tall, wears a white straw hat and white shirt.

Who they are, where from, and what their mission is is puzzling the people very much and the entire community is greatly alarmed over their mysterious actions.

Swept by a Cyclone

Of approbation to the pinnacle of popularity, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has acquired a commanding position, which has occasionally made it a bright and shining mark for knaves, who seek to foist upon the community spurious compounds in the guise akin to that of the real article. These are mostly local bitters or tonics of great impurity, and, of course, devoid of medicinal efficacy. Beware of them and get the genuine Bitters, a real remedy for malaria, rheumatism, kidney trouble, dyspepsia, nervousness, constipation and biliousness. Physicians of eminence everywhere commend the great invigorant, both for its remedial properties and its purity. A wineglass thrice a day will soon bring vigor and regularity to a disordered and enfeebled system.

The Question of Contests.

The following good tempered wish is expressed by our esteemed contemporary, the Harrisburg "Telegraph":—

The "Telegraph" hopes that the press of the State will take up the question of settling contested seats to the State conventions outside of the conventions. This is a most serious subject and one that ought to be given a great deal of attention. Chairman Quay has announced that he will call a meeting of the State Committee in a short time and will ask the advice of the individual members as to matters for the good of the party, and it is at this meeting that the subject of delegate credentials and contested seats can be settled. No more funny business like last week. The rank and file of the party are very tired of such scenes.

We do not think it will be possible to settle the question of contested seats to State Conventions outside the conventions. A State Convention is a deliberative body to which must naturally be accorded the right to judge of the election and qualification of its own members. There is no other authority to which such a responsible and delicate duty could be delegated, and it is not likely to be successfully usurped.

The State Committee has no authority to act upon these matters or to make rules to govern a State Convention. The convention alone can do that. The practice has been ever since the organization of the party for the State chairman to make up the roll of delegates from the credentials regularly certified to him by the proper authority, leaving to the convention the undisputed right to settle all contests as it saw fit. We are not aware that the exercise of this right has ever been abused.

Evidently the late convention was very well satisfied with the method as it has existed or it would have proposed some change. Had it been so inclined it could easily have adopted a rule to put into the hands of the State Committee the preparation of the roll, and it could have made any other changes not inconsistent with the rights and privileges which every convention must exercise for itself, but among these we believe to be the right to judge of the election and qualification of its own members.

But after all the hubbub about the State Committee making up the roll, and the farce that was played over it, the convention seemed to be satisfied to let the practice of thirty-five years or more continue, for it took no action to change it and it was the only authority that could make a change.

One Killed, Another Injured.

Pittsburg, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Nicholas Ohm, Jr., was instantly killed and her father-in-law, Nicholas Ohm, Sr., was fatally injured by being run down on a crossing by the Cincinnati express on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad near Reilly station at 11 o'clock this morning. Ohm and his daughter were en route to the funeral of a neighbor. The train, running at high speed, struck their carriage squarely and hurled the occupants a great distance. The horse was uninjured. Ohm is a coal operator, 55 years of age. Mrs. Ohm was 25 years of age and had no children. Mr. Ohm died of his injuries at the Homeopathic hospital, Pittsburg, this afternoon.

ECZEMA

From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs, and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. FROM When all things had failed I determined to try S. S. S., and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible Eczema was gone, not a sign of it left, my general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease. I have since recommended CHILDHOOD S. S. S. to a number of friends for skin diseases, and have never yet known a failure to cure.

Our King's Fool.

Ever since Cleveland became our virtual King, and subdued Congress to the gold standard, I have thought the United States should have all the luxuries of ancient imperialism. One of them was a King's Fool. It makes me laugh till I cry to see that we have this addition to our institutions in J. Sterling Morton, our nominal Secretary of Agriculture. O Lord, how funny he is! No end-man in a minstre show ever had such a mouth, or wobbled it so scatteringly. No humpty-dumpty of a circus ever made such a side-splitting show, whichever end of him was up. I roll in fun at the thought of him.

The king's fool of old wore a cap and bells to call himself to attention: but our national fool has no use for such artificial flowers; his fool is so natural to him it tinkles itself, and a cap big enough for it would fit the moon. Heavens, how he amuses me!

I could recount a hundred of his jokes, all of them as rich as a pumpkin turned in to a jack-o'-lantern, and as fresh as a drop of dew on a skunk cabbage. But the best are always his silver jokes. When a year or two ago he called silver "old junk" I nearly rolled off my chair with laughing.

In 1872, when our miserable silver was worth a little more than gold, Sam Hooper got off a good joke in the House of Representatives, by putting through the Mint Bill as a "substitute" for himself. This was called a "fraud" by other members. But it was only a joke, and it paved the way to the wit of our great King's Fool. In January of 1873 John Sherman perpetrated a better joke than even Hooper's by arranging a part of the same Mint Bill in the Senate that it was left out of the reading. Thus Sherman, too, was the forerunner of King's Fool, and made the "old junk" for the dear Sterling Morton to joke over.

It would be too bad to remonetize silver and thus joke it back again to par with gold. It might make a bigger cash basis for bank-credit currency, and prevent panics; but it would spoil the jests of the most touching fool that has been produced for ages. The ever ludicrous J. Sterling Morton himself would be turned into "old junk." Rothschild forbid!

Again I am splitting my sides with laughing as our jolly King's Fool pays the Silver clerks of his Agricultural Department, in actual, hard, silver dollars. They are heavy to carry, and this is the joke—a joke that has never been equalled since the famous school-boy got licked by another boy and took his revenge in making faces at the fellow's sister. Ha! Ha! Ha! Our J. Sterling is seen at his best in this joke; for if the clerks don't like it, and don't laugh they can leave the service of the King's Fool, and get no dollars at all. Under Cleveland, this is known as the civil-service joke. God save our King, and especially his Fool!

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Sept. 9, 1895.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

A New York democrat who is in a position to know whereof he speaks said to a Washington friend concerning the report that Senator Hill and Ex-Secretary Whitney would have a bitter fight for the control of the coming democratic state convention, and consequently of the democratic delegation from that state to the national convention: "It is simply rot. Why should there be a fight? Hill, who controls and will continue to control the state machinery, does not antagonize Whitney's candidacy for the presidental nomination. On the contrary, he is perfectly willing that Mr. Whitney should have the solid delegation; also the democratic nomination, although he doesn't believe he can get that, even with the earnest support of his own state delegation to start with. Why is Hill willing to see Whitney nominated? Simply because he is well acquainted with the condition of public sentiment that he knows no democrat can be elected President next year. Besides he knows that Mr. Cleveland, although making a pretense of being friendly to Whitney, doesn't want him nominated. Good reasons, aren't they?"

Senator Gorman's friends say that Mr. Cleveland has promised, through Dan Lamont, to let it be known in some way that he wants the Gorman ticket elected in Maryland and that those democrats who are fighting that ticket, most of whom are Cleveland men, are acting again his wishes. But there are democrats—other people too—in Washington who do not believe that any such promise has been made or that Mr. Cleveland will move a finger or say a word to help Gorman in his trouble. Mr. Cleveland has heretofore shown himself to be the most implacable and unforgiving of men, even where his own political interests were injured by his refusal to forgive njuries previously done him.

Hon. J. S. Kamrar, of Webster City, Iowa, who is visiting Washington, says of political matters in his state: "The republicans will elect their state ticket this year by an enormous majority; it wouldn't be surprising if the 100,000 mark was reached. Next year we will do even better, as we expect to have a favorite son at the head of the national ticket. The logic of the situation undoubtedly points to Senator Allison as the best; the strongest and the most available man that could be named for the Presidency. I think he is growing in strength all the time. The enthusiasm of his own people in his cause is something wonderful, and there is scarcely a republican voter in the state who doesn't already look upon him as the next President."

The presumptuous opinion of Comptroller Bowler, which required ten thousand words to express, refusing to improve the claims for sugar bounty and referring the sugar men to the Court of Claims, would have attracted more attention had it not been known so far in advance just what he had been ordered to do and why the orders had been issued. The principal object the administration has in view is, of course, to keep the money appropriated by Congress to pay sugar bounties in the Treasury. That object will be attained, as no decision can be reached by the Court of Claims until well into November, even should the case be advanced to the utmost and it is expected that the case will be appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court before the money is paid. Nothing would please Mr. Cleveland more than to have either the Court of Claims or the Supreme Court decide that bounties are unconstitutional, but there is very little probability of his getting any such pleasure from the Supreme Court, however the Court of Claims may decide, although he has the power of adding one vote against constitutionality in the Supreme Court, by the appointment of a successor to the late Justice Jackson. The Louisiana sugar men are very bitter toward Mr. Cleveland, who gave them a positive promise that they should have this bounty, and who used his influence to help get the bill providing therefore through Congress. They now see through the game, and say that it will cost the democratic party the electoral vote of Louisiana.

The Washington Contingent of the G. A. R. left for the Louisville Encampment yesterday and to-day on special trains.

The gold reserve is again below the hundred million mark, and Treasury officials unblushingly admit that they are doing nothing, except to rely upon the members of the bond syndicate for help to prevent its going lower. Is it any wonder that people are praying for the end of the democratic administration, and that the country may never have another?

Lincoln as a Lover.

Abraham Lincoln's sentimental perplexities are to be shown in an article of singular interest which John Gilmer Speed has written from unpublished letters of Lincoln to Joshua Speed, for the next issue of The Ladies' Home Journal. The article will show that the great President was not steady in his affairs of the heart, that he floundered in his love, and finally induced his friend Speed to marry and tell him (Lincoln) whether marriage was a failure or not.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

GETTING SILVER INTO CIRCULATION.

A Question on This Point Answered: Also One About the Indian Gentleman.

A correspondent residing in Guthrie, O. T., asks us this question:

Granting that the United States have "free and unlimited coinage of silver" how will that get more money in circulation? In other words, suppose India sends $100,000,000 of silver bullion here to be coined, won't this bullion be coined into American dollars free and then "handed over" to the Indian gentleman? How will that help the American farmer? Won't this Indian gentleman buy gold with his American dollars and then take the gold out of the country?

Idle money, like idle men, earns nothing. Under free coinage the owner of bullion, either silver or gold, would, when he found it to his advantage, take it to the mint, have it coined and receive back either his bullion coined or its equivalent in coins. What would he then do with it? Hide it in a vault? It would purchase for him nothing there. No. He would invest it in some enterprise and would do so in the firm confidence that in the exercise of ordinary business precaution he would realize a profit on his investment. Why this confidence? Because free coinage would constantly add to the volume of primary money, thus meeting the increased demand which comes from year to year upon the nation's stock of money by reason of the increase in business consequent upon increase in population, and thus holding steady the value of the dollar instead of permitting it to increase from month to month as it does now. This constant increase in the value of the dollar produces a constant decline in the value of all other kinds of property. To illustrate: Suppose to-day a man were to measure the wheat in his storehouse and find that he had, according to the measure used, 10,000 bushels. Let him then lock the storehouse and not permit any wheat to be removed therefrom for a year. At the end of the year let us suppose that he again measures the wheat in the storehouse, and that this time he finds only 9,000 bushels. Let us further suppose that he, in his endeavors to ascertain why he has less wheat now than he had when he measured it before, compares the bushel measure used at the last measurement with the bushel measure which he used at the first measurement, and that he finds the last bushel measure is one-tenth larger than at first, he will have discovered a condition of things similar to that which nowadays exist at the end of each year when the business man comes to measure his property and ascertain what profit he has made during the year just past.

The business man finds that, measured in dollars, he has accomplished little if anything, and this is so not because he has not added to the sum with which he starts, but because the dollar—the thing with which he measures that sum at the end of the year—has increased in its measuring power. His debts have remained the same. Such a condition of things deters men from entering new enterprises—deters them from putting money into property, sometimes called business. The reverse would be true under free coinage of both gold and silver. Men would then make a profit because the steadily increasing supply would prevent the dollar from increasing in its measuring power—in its value—and this would encourage new ventures in the development of the nation's resources, and these ventures would put money into circulation.

The Indian gentleman spoken of in the question would have his bullion coined into American dollars and have it handed back to him free of charge. But after receiving it back it would be of no more value to him than before it was coined, except for the purposes of investment in the United States. He would consequently invest it either in the produce of the factory or the farm, or in some other kind of American property. This would create a demand for American products, and who does not desire such a demand? Free coinage would bring us the entire trade of the silver using countries in the world—a trade that, without the aid of any gold standard nation, would start every mill in the country and make every farm bloom with prosperity.

Yes, the Indian gentleman might buy gold with the American dollar, but our interrogator may rest assured that the owner of the gold would not part with a dollar of it unless he obtained what he thought it was worth in American silver dollars. He would then part with it, and he will do the very same thing to-day under the gold standard. Free coinage has nothing to do with the matter at all.

AMERICAN COTTON has been baled so badly both with respect to the packing and the covering, that the Liverpool Cotton Association has issued a circular in which it insists upon the baling of cotton in a certain method, or, as an alternative, the deduction of five pounds from every bale not so packed. New Orleans Exchange denies the right of the foreign association to impose this penalty; but, as Liverpool is the world's market, our cotton shippers must abide by the regulations which prevail there. The flimsy and careless packing of American cotton is believed to have been responsible for numerous fires on steamships.

As the Pennsylvania Monuments in the Chickamauga Park will not be in readiness for dedication days, the 19th and 20th of this month, Governor Hastings and his staff have cancelled their engagement to be present on those days. It is now proposed that Pennsylvania shall have demonstrations at Atlanta and Chickamauga in the same week. This is a good idea, and if carried out will afford our citizens an opportunity of taking in both celebrations in one trip.

Hard Times at DuBois.

The Bell, Lewis and Yates company has shut down their Rochester and Sandy Lick mines at DuBois, indefinitely, which throws about 1,000 miners out of employment. The mines have only been running part time all summer, and the miners could only earn a bare subsistence. The total suspension will cause great destitution. A mass meeting of citizens was held in the DuBois opera house Thursday evening to consider what could be done to relieve the starving families.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing, will please address,

Gold Reserve Reduction.

Another drop in the gold reserve without so much as a movement of the bond syndicate has set gossip going and given a weak tone to the markets. The question is whether the bond syndicate has wearied of regulating Uncle Sam's affairs, or whether it thinks the business boom has been going to fast and has undertaken to regulate the affairs of the financial world as well as those of the National Treasury. Certain it is, that, if the Treasury Department had, in the beginning, adopted the policy of paying out legal tenders exchanged for gold only only in return for gold and adhered to it rightly, there would not now be any trouble about the reserve, or any necessity to depend upon the bond syndicate.

There are good prospects, however, that gold exports will soon cease. The magnificent crops of the West will not only stand in lieu of some part of the golden stream to Europe, but their movements is likely to affect the railways in such a way as to stop the exchange of American securities by European holders for our gold supply. It is even a probability that a foreign demand for our securities may be created that will set the gold tide in our direction again before spring.

Pennsylvania Crops.

Washington, September 10.—The weather crop bulletin for the past week issued today gives the following: Pennsylvania—Rains beneficial to late lowland crops, prematurely ripened corn, tobacco and buckwheat being cut, pasture short and some stock being fed.

What an ordinary man eats and the way he eats it would be enough to give dyspepsia to an ostrich—unless the ostrich were wise enough to assist his digestion from time to time with an efficient combination of vegetable extracts. Such a preparation is Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are the pills par excellence for those who sometimes eat the wrong things and too much. They stimulate action in all of the digestive organs. They stop sour stomach, windy belchings, heartburn, flatulence and cure constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache and kindred derangements.

They are gentle, but prompt in removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels, and have none of the unpleasant features of other pills. They do not gripe and cause no violent shock to the system.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative. Two are mildly cathartic. One taken after dinner insures perfect digestion, sound sleep and an absence of foul breath in the morning.

They are unlike ordinary pills, because you do not become a slave to their use. They not only afford temporary relief, but effect a permanent cure.

Once used they are always in favor.

Your name and address on a postal card will bring a free sample package of 4 to 7 doses. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

CAUTION.—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—it's an easy name to remember. Don't let some designing dealer persuade you to take some pills represented as "just as good." He makes more profit on the "just as good" kind. That's why he prefers to sell them. That's the reason why you better not take them.

A Chance to Make Five Hundred Dollars.

The New York Ledger, with its accustomed liberality, offers to its readers One Thousand Dollars in Cash Prizes for the best explanations of the mystery contained in its new serial, "The Mystery of the Inn by the Shore," by Miss Florence Warden, the author of "The House on the Marsh." First prize, five hundred dollars. The balance of the one thousand dollars divided into thirty-five cash prizes, awarded according to merit of answers. The story commences in the Ledger of September 14, and competitors may send in their guesses at any time during the publication of the first nine installments, but the prizes will be awarded to the readers who first send the best answers. Here is a chance for a young couple to get a home, for a young man to get an education and a start in life, or for a widow to lift a mortgage. The award is for the nearest to a correct explanation, which can be made as easily by a girl as by a boy, by a woman as by a man, by anybody that will give the requisite care and thought to solving the riddle offered by the story. It is an interesting task, with a big reward for the winners. Everybody likes to guess how a story will end, and all are apt to think, after reading a few chapters, that they can tell just how a story is coming out. Here is a chance for these wise readers to turn their wisdom to good account. The Ledger is as good as the Bank of England, and those who give the first and best explanations will get the prizes. We hope that some of our own readers may be among them.

Home-made Wines.

In the country women and boys are now actively engaged in gathering elderberries, which grow wild by the roadside, and they find a ready market for them. The berries make an exceedingly rich wine, excellent for the sick. By many it is considered better than any other native wine known.

The following recipt for making elderberry wine comes from a connoisseur. The wine is pronounced equal to any imported wine: To every quart of berries add a quart of water and boil them for half an hour, stirring them so as to break the skins. Strain, and to every gallon of juice add three pounds of granulated sugar and a quarter of an ounce of cream of tartar. Boil for half an hour. Take a wine cask or large demijohn, and put in one pound of raisins to every three gallons of wine and a slice of toasted bread cut into pieces and covered over with good yeast. When the wine has become cool, put it into the cask and place in a room of even temderature to ferment. When the fermentation has entirely ceased, bottle the wine and put the corks in tight.

There are many varieties of grape wines. The following brief directions will insure success in making the most desirable varieties: Let the grapes become thoroughly ripe before gathering. All grapes make a stronger, better flavored, and sweeter wine for being fully ripe. Gather the grapes and let them lie in a cool, dry place for several hours. Assort the grapes before using, removing all decayed or green fruit. Mash the grapes with a beater or put them through a press. Strain the grape juice into a wine cask and put in a cellar of even temperature, not lower than 50° Fahrenheit, and where there is plenty of air. Fermentation commences very soon, and lasts several weeks. The cask should always be kept full by filling occasionally from a jug containing grape juice and kept for the purpose. The wine having settled after this fermentation, it may be drawn off into another cask, or large jugs may be used. A second fermentation will take place in the spring. When the fermentation ceases, bottle the wine and cork tight. Lay the bottles on their sides in a cool cellar. Frequently the wine will not become clear, in which case add a little charcoal to it. The wine will improve with age.

Wine like the Rhine vintage of Germany may be made as follows: Use good ripe Catawba or Isabella grapes and pound or grind them so as to crush the seeds and leave them in that state for twenty-four hours. Fumigate a wine cask by burning strips of muslin dipped in melted sulphur and suspended by a wire across the bunghole. Strain or press out the juice into the cask, filling it full so that the impurities may run out of the bunghole during fermentation. In the spring prepare another case in the same way and strain the wine into it. When a year old bottle it and it is fit for use.

A new drink that may fill an immediate want comes to us from the far West and has the very unattractive name of dead horse's head, but is well worth trying. Put in a pitcher the thin rim of a lemon cut into strips, the juice of the lemon, a teaspoonful of granulated sugar a tablespoonful of good Jamaica rum, and a piece of ice. Add to this a bottle of ginger ale, mix well and serve.

WEATHER PREDICTIONS.

Foster Forcasts When the Storm Will Sweep Across the Continent.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from 8 to 12th, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 12th, cross the west of Rockies country by close of 15th, great central valley 15th to 17th, eastern states 18th. This will be one of the most notable storms of the year and will include a dangerous tropical hurricane.

The interested weather observer should carefully note that the tropical hurricane and our transcontinental storm belong to entirely different system. The former move around the centre of the north Atlantic ocean, the eastern coasts of the United States lying in their pathway. The other system of storms moves around the earth between 30 and 65 of north latitude and consequently cross the North American continent from west to east.

The paths of the tropical hurricanes and the transcontinental storms run together on the Atlantic coast and they are antagonistic, sometimes destroying each other more frequently one absorbing the other and generally it is the transcontinental storms that are absorbed by the tropical hurricanes.

For the above reasons chances are that the particular storm first mentioned above will not be severe on the continent, but will be absorbed by the tropical hurricane. This view is not conclusive, however.

The safest policy is to be on the lookout everywhere from the 14th to the 20th and take no unnecessary risk on land or water. Within this period telegraphic reports will indicate where the storm will probably spend the greatest force. Shipping interests on the lakes and near the Atlantic coast can save serious destructions of property by keeping near a safe harbor from 14th to 20th, and pleasure boating excursions should be entirely abandoned.

The warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 13th, great central valleys 17th, eastern states 19th.

The cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 16th, great central valleys 18th, eastern states 20th.

Blue and Gray Day.

An invitation has been extended by the executive committee of the Cotton tates and International Exposition, inviting all veterans of both the Union and Confederate armies to visit the Exposition on Blue and Gray day—the 21st of September. Coming as it does just after the reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic at Louisville and their dedication of the Chickamauga National Park, an immense number of veterans from both armies will visit Atlanta, and it is expected that not less than one hundred thousand visitors will be at the Exposition on that day. Every effort is being made for the entertainment of the strangers by the public comfort department of the Exposition. An elaborate program is being arranged for the day which will doubtless bring a larger reunion of the veterans of the two armies than any that has ever been held.

All Products of Labor Have Declined With Silver—A Bit of History.

The recent changes of position by eminent men on the issue of bimetallism constitute a remarkable and interesting chapter in the history of opinions. Americans know that our own public men have fluctuated wildly; that former advocates of silver have yielded to the Cleveland pressure and become gold bugs, while former monometallists now confess their error and even John Sherman shows some signs of relenting at view of the appalling ruin he has wrought. When the fall of prices under conditions which would normally create a rise compelled belief that some malign influence was at work, he said in the senate, May 31, 1892: "When the law of 1876 was passed, the only trouble about it was that we were not as wise as the Almighty Ruler of the universe. We could not see ahead."

It is not so well known, however, that abroad the conversions to bimetallism have been far more numerous and important. There is not to-day one monometallist in Great Britain who denies the great appreciation of gold. Mr. Giffen, in my opinion the clearest headed of them all, does not even condescend to argue the matter, but starts his discussion on that basis as a fixed fact and speaks of it as the startling phenomenon of this age, while the members of the parliamentary commission sneer at the futile attempts of Hon. David A. Wells to prove that gold has stood still while everything else has moved. The reason is obvious. Those Englishmen are under no political bias or commercial pressure against the truth; they frankly admit that it is to the interest of the creditor nation to have dear money, and as the gold basis gives them that they see no cause to object.

DECLINE IN THE VALUE OF PRODUCTS.

Interesting indeed is the case of Hon. Henry Hucks Gibbs, director and former governor of the bank of England and delegate to the conference of 1878. He was there an ardent advocate of the single gold standard, but has changed his view and become president of the English Bimetallic league, and in explanation thereof says that the price tables of such economists as Soetbeer, Karl and Sauerbeck are conclusive. Never before were the statistics of prices so carefully collected, and never were there such striking agreements between those of different nations. If one great nation, or even one great statistician, had arrived at a different conclusion, there might have been room for doubt, but from the United States bureau of statistics down to the agricultural minister of little Roumania there is absolute harmony in the statement that with the decline of silver, as stated in terms of gold, has gone an equal decline in all the products of haman labor, save the very few where the tendency was successfully counteracted by other causes, and that a very small part indeed of this decline is due to the gain of production over consumption. Whole libraries of sophistry on this last point are swept away by one undisputed fact. The decline has been as marked, though not so great, in staples of which there is an admitted scarcity as in those of which there is supposed to be a surplus, if indeed there can be a surplus in articles of which all mankind want more than they can now buy.

EVILS OF THE GOLD STANDARD FORETOLD.

In 1892 Alfred D. Rothschild, even while arguing that England should maintain the gold standard, wrote to the Brussels international monetary conference that if other nations did not maintain the coinage of silver "there would be a depreciation in the value of that commodity which would be frightful to contemplate and would cause a monetary panic, the far spreading effects of which it would be impossible to foretell." The panic has come, and all our goldbugs venture to promise is that some time in the next decade South Africa gold will help us out. Mr. Goschen, a great authority in England, has recently declared that monometallism has been carried too far. In 1888 parliament appointed a royal commission on gold and silver, composed of six bimetallists and six monometallists, and as a result of the facts collected by it Mr. Leonard H. Courtney, leader of the latter, has announced his conversion to bimetallism. Professor H. S. Foxwell, professor of political economy in University college, London, in a recent letter announcing his own conversion, names eight other prominent English economists who have made the same change. Even Hugh McCulloch, who has been both an American and English banker and was our secretary of the treasury and a monometallist, wrote in 1887 that the burden was becoming too great and closed his letter thus: "Debts contracted when both metals are used as money would be a burden too heavy to be borne when measured by a single standard."

DANGER OF POPULAR REVOLT.

Even as I write comes strange news from Germany, whose capitalists have been most obstinate and insultingly arrogant in their contempt of bimetallism. The reichstag has declared for a bimetallic conference after a heated discussion in which it was loudly declared that the present policy is ruining the agricultural interests and is simple destruction of debtors. Within five hours of the publication of this fact in Washington our own senate took most significant action. Public men in both houses hinted at their belief that the war on silver had gone too far, and on the next day Senator Chandler openly confessed that New England was alarmed at the general tendency of prices and business. He said, and it was a most amazing confession for him, that the present policy was most unjust to debtors; that if the Republicans did not carry out their pledges in aid of silver there was danger of a popular revolt; that England as the great creditor nation had destroyed bimetallism in his own selfish interest, and the United States had acquiesced to the injury of its people.

Several English writers have recently been honest enough to put their advocacy of bimetallism on the ground that there has been such shrinkage of the securities on which debts are based that hundreds of millions of bonds have been made worthless. Mr. David Murray, addressing the London capitalists in regard to Australia, says; "Banks advanced on securities at as safe a margin as their advances were made 20 to 30 years ago. Those margins have now disappeared. The produce of the colonies has fallen in value one-half; the estate, the runs, the mines, the farms, all producing factors, have fallen in like ratio, not from scant production, but from diminished prices." He gives a loud warning to the British creditors that their debtors can bear no more. Need I repeat his warning to our own money lords? Need point to the continuous and rapid decline in farm values, to the 15,000 farms in the west taken in by mortgage in one year to the fact that thousands of farms are now worth less than even the most cautious loaning companies were willing to advance on them ten years ago, and that in consequence our farmers, once in the most conservative class in the world, are now the most radical political innovators? Will western tailors submit to pay $20 where they agreed to pay $17.

FROM "COIN" TO GOLD.

A brief bit of history is here in order. It is within the memory of all men of my age that during our civil war the government inflated the currency at least 150 per cent; that in 1865-70 it was suddenly contracted by the retirement of interest bearing notes, by the drift of money to the south and to the new west, and that the people were confronted with the tax of paying public and private debts in a money worth at least 40 per cent. more than in which they were contracted. The struggle was long and doubtful. Even with all their wonderful prestige from the success of war and emancipation the Republicans twice lost Ohio on that issue and twice carried it by less than 10,000 plurality. We who advocated resumption in coin—and I trust I without egotism mention my own experience as a speaker and writer in the cause—had flung at us daily the charge that we were helping the bondholder and usurer to rob the producer. We could make one reply; It is the letter of the contract: gold and silver is the money of the constitution. It is hard indeed to pay $1 where only 70 cents was promised, but the country awards it, and law doth give it The people hesitate long, but with a sigh confessed that the latter of the contract was against them, and with sublime heroism voted to keep it.

Scarcely, however, had the verdict for "honest money" been rendered when we were confronted with the claim that in place of the old specie basis in which the debt had been contracted we must pay with one coin. In vain did we point to the written contract. Our eastern friends, admitted that it was according to the letter of the constitution, declared that the spirit and understanding of it were for payment in gold alone. As between green backs and coin we had urged the letter. Now as between gold and silver we were to observe the spirit.

MONOMETALLIST ABSURDITIES.

The reasons advanced for monometallism have been many and ingenious, and ne ones have been urged as the old ones ha to be thrown aside. The first was that silver is too bulky, but that is so obsolete. We do not carry large sums of coin, we use paper. Next it was urged that we should be at a disadvantge in the exchange with our foreign customers, but everybody knows that was no trouble when our only money was depreciated paper, and that exchange must be calculated just the same so long as the coins of different countries vary. Any schoolboy can make the calculation on any trade in one minute. The claim that we should pay gold and be paid in silver was too foolish to impose long on any one. Our people certainly had sense enough to charge prices that made up the difference in coin and greenbacks and will they be less sensible with silver? Much has lately been said to the effect that the most progressive and highly civilized nations are on the gold basis. It has also been repeatedly proved that the same nations consume by far the largest amounts of intoxicating liquors, and the one fact is worth as much as the other. Of all the goldbug absurdities, however, I think the most absurd is their paradox that free coinage will raise the value of silver to the miners and not to others. In adjacent columns of many a metropolitan paper can be seen these statements:

First—The silver kings want free coinage as they can bring 50 cents worth of silver to the mint and get $1 for it—that is, with free coinage the silver dollar will at once be on a par with the gold, and the government will pay out both indifferently.

Second—With free coinage all our paper money would drop to the silver basis, and we should have 50 cent dollars—that is, silver is to be worth no more as money than it is now as bullion valued in terms of gold.

This is but one of a thousand contradictions and absurdities which show how completely their false assumption as to the immutability of gold has destroyed their capacity for reasoning on the subject. They cannot extend their views of any measure beyond the effect it will have the next day in Wall street. Their conception of a nation's finances are summed up in one word—"stocks." Truly, they need warning that debtors may be pushed to far.

J. H. BROWNING.

Fatal Accident.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 4.—The brick tower of the new machinery hall in the state fair grounds collapsed this afternoon carrying down part of the roof and balcony and burying several men. All but two were taken out alive. The accident was due to the softening of the mortar in the walls by the heavy rain storm of last night. The bricklayers had been taken off the building a few minutes previous to the collapse. But for this fact the mortality would have been greater. The men at work were carpenters and plumbers. The dead are: Henry Hobson, plumber, aged 30, married; James Parks, carpenter, aged 30, married.

Injured—Charles Brownwell, water boy aged 13, both legs and arms and several ribs broken, will die; Nelson Williamson, carpenter, both legs broken; Samuel Davenport, boss carpenter, badly bruised by falling bricks; Fred Beard, carpenter, badly bruised and arms broken; Jimmy Calney, slate carrier, leg broken.

Shipping Shelled Eggs.

A consular report tells of large quantities of shelled eggs being sent to England from Russia and Italy for the use of pastry cooks, bakers, hotels and restaurants. The eggs are emptied from their shells into tin cans holding 1,000 or more, and after being hermeticaly sealed, are packed with straw into wooden cases. Great care is necessary in selecting eggs, as a single bad one would spoil the whole lot. Lower price and saving of time, and the greater ease and less expensive and loss in handling are named as the advantage of this system.

Get Lost and Roost in a Tree.

Two Juniata county girls, one from Maze and the other from near East Salem went on Shade mountain recently to gather berries, where they lost their way and were compelled to pass the night in the mountains. They climbed a tree and spent the night in its branches. There is no record that their hair has turned white, but their experience was certainly not as enjoyable as a night at an applebutter boiling.

Death of Charles Ardell.

Charles Ardell, a brother of our townsman Mr. John Ardell, Jr., died at his home in Williamsport, on Thursday morning at 4 o'clock, after an illness of about ten days; although he has been in poor health for a number of years past. Mr Ardell was known as one of the most extensive lumbermen of the West Branch Valley, and for years carried on the trade in all its various stages. Mr. Ardell was aged 54 years, and is survived by a wife, four children, four brothers and a sister. His brothers are John, of this place; Tevil and James, of Julian, and George, of Atlanta, N. Y. The funeral will occur tomorrow, from his late residence in Williamsport.

A MOTHER'S DUTY

TOWARDS HER DAUGHTERS.

Suggestions Which Bear Repeating, as Their Importance is Immeasurable.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

Only a few years ago even the medical profession scouted the idea that young girls could suffer from the misery of uterus troubles.

That form of disease, it was claimed, came only to married women.

When Lydia E. Pinkham first sent out the news of her great discovery, there was no lack of harsh speech from those whose practice and opinions she set at defiance.

But when young girls by the hundreds were absolutely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, then the tongues of the traducers were stilled, and faith was allowed to live in the hearts of the people.

Young girls are subject to this trouble. It robs them of the buoyancy of youth. It makes all effort distasteful.

It causes retention and suppression of menses, leucorrhœa, severe headache, waxy complexion, depression, weakness, loss of appetite and interest.

Certainly mothers ought to know that these are all symptoms of the one cause of nearly all the suffering that comes to women; and to save their daughters ought to begin treatment at once.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the surest and most natural remedy for women ever compounded. It will accomplish its work with certainty.

TWO TOWNS DESTROYED.

Roderiguez and Abastor, Mexico, Practically Wiped Out.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 5.—A special to the Chronicle from Piedras Negras, Mexico, says that advices have reached there of the almost complete destruction of the towns of Roderiguez and Abastor, situated south of there in the valley of the Salido river.

Both places were wiped out of existence by a cloud burst, which occurred in the San Blas mountains, back of the town. The water rushed down the valley in a tremendous torrent, sweeping everything before it. It covered the ground to a depth of six feet and the flood was six to nine miles wide. The business houses and residences of the two towns were built o adobe and they melted away before the torrent of water like so much sand. The town of Abastor had a population of 1,500 people. The inhabitants saw the torrent coming down the valley in time to make their escape to the adjoining hills.

So far as known there was no lives lost in each place, although not more than fifteen houses are left standing. Every house in the town of Roderiguez, which has a population of 500, was washed away, but no lives were lost. It is feared that there was great destruction of property and lives lost further down the valley, as the portion was thickly settled. It is known that all the buildings on the Hacienda of Jere Ross were caught in the flood and washed away. The loss of his property amounted to about $20,000.

Catarrh caused hoarseness and difficulty in speaking. I also to a great extent lost hearing. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm dropping of mucous has ceased, voice and hearing have greatly improved.—J. W. Davidson, Att'y at Law, Monmouth, Ill.

I used Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh and have received great benefit. I believe it a safe and certain cure. Very pleasant to take.—Wm. Frazer, Rochester, N. Y.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

May Be an Important Capture

Philadelphia, September 5.—What is believed to be an important capture was made by city detectives today in the arrest of Robert Ritson, and it is thought an extensive swindle of banks has been nipped in the bud. A few days ago a firm of printers here notified Chief of Detectives Miller that a stranger had given them an order for several hundred blank drafts which were to be finished today. Detectives were put on the case and they arrested Ritson immediately after he had received the drafts from the printers. The drafts are known as cashier's drafts, are drawn on the bank's correspondents in other cities. The Continental National bank of New York is the correspondent of the First National bank of this city, and for this city, and for this Ritson had about fifty drafts printed. The other drafts were drawn on the Citizens' bank of Louisville, Ky.; the Citizens' bank, of Milwaukee; the Boston bank, of Boston, and five New York banks. They also found in Ritson's possession a book containing a cipher code and the detectives believe him to be one of an organized band who have planned to swindle many banking institutions.

Ritson could not satisfactorily explain his object in having the drafts printed and he was held in $800 bail for a further hearing.

Elected Officers.

Lewistown, Sept. 5,—The first business transacted to-day at the encampment of the Juniata Valley Veteran association was the election of the following officers for the coming year: President, M. S. Lytle of Huntingdon; vice presidents, W. Allison, of Mifflintown, and Dr. A. Smith, of Selinsgrove; secretary, A. Letterman, of Huntingdon; treasurer, H. Copelin, of Tyrone. Huntingdon was selected as the place for the encampment next year, to be held during the celebration of the centennial of that borough. The encampment here is a great success, many veterans being present from all the counties of the Juniata valley, especially from Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata and Snyder. The camp is near the Sunbury railroad station and quarters are provided for the veterans in tents obtained from the adjutant general's department of the state.

Insurgents Win Again.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 5.—A cablegram from Key West, Fla., to the Times-Union says: Private letters to this city bring the news of a big battle fought on August 31, near Santiago De Cuba, between the insurgents under Antonia Maceo and Spanish troops commanded by Cannellas, the insurgents completely routed the troops, killing 600 soldiers and eight officers and wounding Canellas. The spanish papers report that the battle was fought but do not give the details.

A Double Tragedy.

York, Pa., Sept. 5.—A double tragedy was enacted at Pleasureville, three miles from this city, this morning. William Beaverson, who deserted his wife six months ago and served time in the county jail, was released to-day. He went to the place where his wife was stopping and put a bullet through her, resulting in her instant death. He then placed the revolver to his head and killed himself by putting a bullet in his brain. The deed is attributed to jealousy.

DEAR READERS:

We have heard from many of you during the brief period that our advertisement appeared in this space. Any others desiring full reports and statements can secure same by writing to us.

The further opening up of the South Central group of gold mines, and the erection of a Stamp Mill to reduce the company's ore to bullion, is a square, legitimate use of capital.

1. Mr. Barry, formerly of Cripple Creek, the Bonanza gold camp of Colorado, sold his interests there, and bought the Morning Star gold mine, a producer in the vicinity of the South Central group.

2. Captain Plummer, formerly of the Granite Mountain mine, is now working the Delamar Mine, a large producer in the vicinity of the South Central group.

As the Granite Mountain (Gold and Silver Mining Co.) stock rose from about twelve cents a share to over $50 a share, and paid from 25 cents to 50 cents per share per month in dividends, under the superintendency of Captain Plummer, we consider him a pretty safe guide to follow in mining, and we invite you to participate in the nyestment.

Pitcher's Castoria.

Locals in a Line.

—Were you at the Veteran's picnic ?

—The College opening season is rapidly approaching.

—Fresh Shell and Tub Oysters received daily. Wholesale and retail. At John Andersons. s4-tf.

—Mr. Claude Cook and family will in a few days move into the house on East Curtin street recently vacated by E. Kitson and family.

—While picking apples on the Alexander farm on Friday Mr. Daniel Schilling missed his footing and fell to the ground, sustaining quite serious injuries.

—Next spring when Mr. John C. Miller goes to farming, his residence on East Linn street will be occupied by Mrs. J. V. Thomas and daughter, they have already rented the property.

—The funeral of Miss Kate Gross occurred this morning at 10 o'clock, services being held in the Catholic church. A large number of persons attendod to pay the last tribute of respect to one whom all esteemed.

—The proposed resumption of the Bellefonte nail works was the entire gossip of the town on Friday. Now if the project only takes place then there will be room for a good bit more talk of a still more enjoyable character.

—On Friday both J. C. Meyer, Esq., and Dr. G. E. Ward broke ground for new residences on East Curtin street. This is evidence that there are at least two businesses that pay in Bellefonte—the practicing of dentistry and the law.

—In the case of Wilson vs. Downing, which has been on trial most all of this week, the jury this morning brought a verdict in favor of Mrs. Levina Downing in the sum of $300. Mrs. Downing expected to recover the full amount of the $5,000 mortgage.

—When completed Dr. Parrish will have one of the nicest drug stores in Bellefonte. There will be one big room in front, a rear room and a nice little bed room or office, just as he may want to use it. It will all be high and well lighted and one of the cosiest places that can be found in this town.

—The newspaper in the adjoining towns are all talking of the big corn stalks that can be found in their respective neighborhoods, but none of them can hold a candle to the big corn that has been grown on the Crider farm down near Eagleville, where the stalks measure from fifteen to twenty feet, and the ears are fully twelve feet from the ground.

—The Bellefonte Academy will open next Wednesday, and with a good attendance, the largest in the history of that institution. The Prep. department will be unusually large, and this fact is accounted for because Miss Overton will this year have charge of that part of the Academy. It was generally believed that the many friends of this lady would rally to her support and the present indications more than justify the expectations of anyone.

—Some funny things take place in our courts, but about the cheekiest thing the writer ever witnessed took place in the court of Quarter Sessions last week. In the case of Com. vs. George Dietz, et al., one of the jurors challenged took his seat in the jury box whilst the rightful unchallenged juror took his seat in the audience. When the suit was over the unchallenged juror remarked "if the other fellow hadn't stolen my place the verdict might have been different.

—Owen McCabe, of Altoona, alias Geo. Parker, one of the coterie of robbers who burglarized Hertzler's store at Old Port Koyal last spring, was convicted in the Juniata county court this week, and sentenced on two indictments to undergo imprisonment for six years and pay a fine of $25 and costs of prosecution. John A. Bacon, presumably another of the same gang, for assisting Wm. Dome, alias Joseph West and Frank Evans to escape from the Mifflintown jail, was sentenced to two year's imprisonment and $5 fine and costs. McCabe testified that the bonds stolen were disposed of in New York city.

—The Magnet, according to its own authority, is the only paper in Bellefonte that never makes mistakes. In its this week's issue it stated that "Ollie Campbell would soon go to Clearfield to take charge of the telephone exchange in that place," and also, "that Boy Bosner would open up a news stand in John McGinley's cigar store." The first mentioned has no foundation whatever, as Ollie does not intend to go to Clearfield at all. And the latter is only correct in so far as to the fact that Roy will open up a news stand ; but it will be in S. H. Williams store on High street. In fact, Roy opened up for business this morning. Hereafter the Magnet should not put forth the claim that it is infallible.

—This is the time of year for the holding of the county fairs, but it is not the time when Bellefonte will hold its county fair. And why? Because that project that was on foot about a year ago, did not pan out as successfully as it was then believed it would. Not because Bellefonte does not have the money to have a fair, but because those who have it are afraid to spend a little of it in such a cause. If the county fair movement which had been so successfully started had been kept moving, we might now be holding a grand fair in this place, same as they are now holding in a large number of other places. Why not again try and see if the fair business could not be worked up.

AN ALLIANCA INCIDENT.

Some News Concerning a Recent International Disagreement.

Madrid, Sept 6.—Count Hobkirk, the Frenchman, who was on board the American steamer Allianca at the time she was fired upon by a Spanish warship off Cape Maysi, Cuba, is now in this city. In an interview to day he said that the Allianca was so close to the coast that he could see the inhabitants clearly. When Captain Crossman, the master of the Allianca, saw the Con de Venadito, the warship which fired on the American vessel, he was enraged because he knew he would not be able to land the arms he had aboard the steamer. He exclaimed: "I will kick up a nice row when I reach the United States."

Senor Muruaga, formerly Spanish minister to the United States, has written to the papers stating that he resigned because he had proof that the Conde De Venadito was right in firing on the Allianca. He would not consent that Spain should give humiliating satisfaction to the United States for an incident in which the United States was at fault.

Moreover, he adds, it is known in the United States that Captain Crossman smuggled arms to the rebels in Brazil during the civil war in that country, and he now carries on a brisk trade smuggling arms to the insurgents in Cuba. Senor Muruaga adds that he had the statements of witnesses that the Allianca carried contraband of war, and that she was only a mile and a half from the Cuban coast when the Conde de Venadite hailed her. He sent these statements and a full report of the occurrence to the Madrid government and they conceded them.

The Spanish press is indignant over these revelations, and violently attacks the United States and the Spanish government. The newspapers declare that the action of the United States is sending an ultimatum was a gross abuse of strength seeing Spain's difficulty at the time.

She Kissed Him.

While William Houston, a young farmer of St. Joseph, Mo., was walking in the street, he met a number of fashionably dressed young ladies. One of them turned suddenly, shook hands with him, and kissed him. The lady was Miss Eva Dunbar, daughter of wealthy parents, and well known in society.

As soon as she had kissed Houston she became much confused and ran into a millinery store, where she laughed and cried hysterically. Her friends supposed that she had mistaken the young man for some intimate friend or relative, and that her confusion was due to the discovery of her mistake. They were more than astonished when Miss Dunbar became composed enough to make an explanation.

"I never saw the young man before," she said, "and I knew he was a stranger before I kissed him, but I couldn't help it. When I turned around my eyes met his, and he looked so good, so noble, and so true, that I wanted to kiss him. I didn't think. There wasn't time to think. I only knew that I had met a real man, and I wasn't sure that I should ever see another one."

Houston is the owner of a fine farm, and sometimes practices law. He is almost perfect physically, and is considered very handsome.

Too Many Labor Days.

Labor Day No. 2 will be observed in Pennsylvania to-day, the first Saturday in September being designated by State law as a holiday, to be known by that name. The Pennsylvania statute was enacted before the national law, which makes the first Monday in September Labor Day, for the other States, and gives the Keystone State two days of the same character, which, in most years, will only be separated by Sunday. This is a surplus of legal holidays for the early part of September, and the next Legislature should take prompt action to make the State law conform to the national date.

Legal holidays serve the useful purpose of giving rest to the people who are overworked. Labor Day was suggested for that purpose, the idea was approved, and it has been adopted by State and nation. By a mischance separate days were selected, though so close together as to secure a manifest excess of the intended principle. There is no remedy for next year, but by 1897 Pennsylvania should be in the union with a Labor Day uniform with the National day.

Cheap Rates to Williamsport.

On September 10th, 11th and 12th, the Beech Creek Railroad will sell round trip tickets to Williamsport, good to return until September 12th, at one way fare for the round trip. These low rates are made on account of the Democratic State Convention to be held at Williamsport September 11th, and also an exhibition by Buffalo Bill's Congress of Rough Riders, September 12th. The evening train Sept. 12th from Williamsport, will be held until 5 o'clock p. m. giving an opportunity to see the afternoon performance of Buffalo Bill's show and of returning home the same evening.

A TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

James H. Ward Kills His Father and Brother-in-Law.

Sullivan, Ind., Sept. 6.—James Ward murdered Aaron Hunter, his father-in-law, and John Hunter, his brother-in-law, near here last night with an ax and committed suicide by shooting when he was surrounded by a posse who were determined to lynch him. A domestic quarrel led to the tragedy.

Last night at 11 o'clock Ward and Aaron Hunter were in town and apparently arrived at a satisfactory understanding. Ward insisted, however upon the old man going to the woods with him with the purpose of hunting coons. While the hunt was in progress and Hunter was sitting on a stump, Ward hit him on the head with an ax. His head was split wide open. When Hunter fell Ward struck the prostrate body again and cut off the head, the ax sinking into the ground. The victim's head rolled to the ground and the murderer kicked it away from him and then went home. He awoke his wife and told her to call her brother, as he and the old man had killed a coon and asked him to help in felling the tree.

Hunter went into the yard with only his shirt on, when Ward, with a stroke of the same ax, felled him to the ground. He died almost instantly with his head split open. Ward then told his wife to keep quiet or she would suffer the same fate.

Ward then went about a half mile down the road and stopped at the Breckets home. He told Mrs. Breckets that he had killed both the Hunters. Before many hours the crime was generally known and a posse consisting of miners and farmers started on the hunt for Ward armed with various weapons.

Just as the posse located Ward, and had surrounded the field in which he was hiding, a single shot was heard. The posse closed in on the spot from whence the firing had come and found Ward on his back on the ground with a revolver in each hand and a bullet wound under the left ear. He was dead.

When the finest vessel in the American navy has been injured by careless handling the credit and welfare of the navy require action that will fix the responsibility and administer such correction as the circumstances call for. A court of inquiry has determined that Commodore Sumner, the commander of the cruiser Columbia, is responsible for the damage sustained by the ship while being docked at Southampton, England, on her voyage home from the naval review at Kiel, and the navy department has accordingly ordered him to be court martialed. The commodore is an old, distinguished and experienced officer, and on that account it is the more surprising that he rendered himself censurable by an act of negligence through which his ship sustained serious damage. But the very fact of his prominence and distinction increases his culpability, and the discipline of the navy will be promoted by holding him strictly accountable. The damage to the Columbia can be easily repaired, but the damage to naval discipline would be irreparable if a distinction were made in the treatment of offenses against the rules and regulations of the service.

THE best investment in real estate is to keep buildings well painted. Paint protects the house and saves repairs. You sometimes want to sell—many a good house has remained unsold for want of paint. The rule should be, though, "the best paint or none." That means

Strictly Pure White Lead

You cannot afford to use cheap paints. To be sure of getting Strictly Pure White Lead, look at the brand; any of these are safe:

"Armstrong & McKelvy,"
"Beymer-Bauman,"
"Davis-Chambers,"
"Fahnestock."

FOR COLORS.—National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

These colors are sold in one-pound cans, each can being sufficient to tint 25 pounds of Strictly Pure White Lead to desired shade; they are in no sense ready-mixed paints, but a combination of perfectly pure colors in the handiest form to tint Strictly Pure White Lead.

A good many thousand dollars have been saved property-owners by having our book on painting and color-card. Send as a postal card and get both free.

The Iron Trade.

The situation of the iron trade is unusually interesting. Prices have advanced in a rather surprising manner, and are still advancing, though the majority of conservative authorities appear to be decidedly persuaded that a reaction is not far distant. The rise of $2 per ton for bessemer pig last week is attributed to various causes. Among those most numerously mentioned is the strike of the iron miners at Marquette.

The strike in question has been in progress for several months. It is aggravated by the strike of the ore handlers, who have been out two months The lockout has curtailed production in the Marquette district to a very appreciable extent, and there is no lack of predictions that the coming winter will see a great shortage in the ore market. The heavy recent purchases of pig iron by the Carnegie Steel company and some of its competitors are supposed to be, in part, at least, in anticipation of the contingency mentioned. That their eagerness to buy at present prices is wholly the result of a conviction that the iron trade is assured of a season of unprecedented demand for iron and steel manufactures, is a proposition from which there are many conservative dissents.

The railroads are not, thus far, making large contracts for roadbed improvements and for extensions as the more hopeful trade prophets some time ago predicted and expected. The volume of business in rails is as yet small, according to the most reliable authority. Yet, all prices remain strong. Under the circumstances, the apprehensions that quotations may be put so high as to cause a flood of foreign steel and iron to sweep in over the new and reduced duties, are evidently to a considerable extent artificial, as there is neither the wonderful prosperity in sight, nor the enforced restriction of home production, which warrants any such prospect. Perhaps there is more than a mere grain of truth in the explanation of a well informed trade organ, which says that so large a part of the business has fallen into the hands of combinations, which are able, or believe they are able, to fix whatever prices they please and to get them, that the customary prudence has little to do with the demand for materials or for products.

A President on Brandy for Sickness

The President of the Baltimore Medical College, who has thoroughly tested Speer's Wines and brandy, says:

I am prepared to bear testimony to the value of Speer's Climax Brandy as a pure and valuable article in all cases of disease in which a reliable stimulant is required. I regard it superior to most French Brandies. HARVEY L. BYRD, M. D.
President and Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children, Baltimore Medical College.

—The potato bug has another crime for which to answer. After having eaten up all the sands on Long Island fought all the dogs, scared all the cows, and sent a thrill of terror through every household from Gowanus Canal to the seas, it has now taken to railroad wrecking. The manager of one Long Island railroad plaintively explains the slow time made on his line by saying that potato bugs, in large and well-fed cavalcades, try to throw the trains from the tracks. A potato bug has no standing in community or country, so a statement from one of them wouldn't amount to anything.

—Please remember the festival at the U. B. church on Saturday evening. Ice cream, cake, fruits, etc. Don't forget it.

—Come to the festival at the U. B. church on Saturday evening of this week. You will be pleased and so will we.

—The members of the U. B. church will hold a festival at the church on Saturday evening of this week, Sept. 14. Everybody invited.

—Wednesday McCalmont & Co., were exhibiting a novel machine in the shape of a corn cutter and binder. It is the first kind ever seen in this county.

—Notwithstanding the fact that peaches are said to be very plenty they are now selling in this place at $1.50 per basket, and that not very large baskets, either.

—These are lovely nights for loafing on the streets, but the young men want to look out where they do their loafing or the "coppers" will get them.

—Another heavy storm passed over Bellefonte late on Monday night, but aside from scaring some people a little bit, no damage was done. But the thunder and lightning were terrific, and no mistake.

—When Gregg Post passed through Pittsburg on Saturday night they were hauled in two cars, the number joining them after leaving here being so large as to require an extra car for their comfortable transportation.

—The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearson, who live on Jail Hill, on Tuesday and was buried Wednesday afternoon. It was aged about six months. This makes the fourth child Mr. and Mrs. Pearson have dead.

—The Williamsport papers told of a giant who visited that place last week who was 21 years old, was 8 feet 2 inches tall weighed 412 pounds and wore a No. 24 shoe, a No. 14 glove, a No 19½ collar and a No. 9 hat. He was born in Minnesota.

—The Pennsylvania State College will shortly issue a bulletin giving a standard ratio for computing butter-fat. This may come in very good for creamerymen and dairy farmers, but a bulletin to tell the laboring man how to get the butter-fat without computing it would be more to their liking these times.

—The wedding of Mr. P. S. Ishler and Miss Ellen Mayes, of Boalsburg, was solemnized in the Reformed church at that place, last evening, Rev. Black officiating. The ceremony attracted a large assemblage of friends of the happy pair and is reported to have been a very pretty wedding.

—At a meeting of the Village Improvement Society, Tuesday evening, Mrs. Mary Blanchard, who is going to Boston for the winter, resigned the presidency and Mrs. A. O. Furst was elected to that office. The society is still agitating cleanliness, but it has not yet succeeded in getting Spring creek beautified.

—The "Bucktails" held their ninth annual reunion at Lock Haven on Wednesday and Thursday. There were about forty old soldiers present, and between eight hundred and a thousand other visitors present. The reunion was a very enjoyable affair and one of the most successful ever held by that organization.

—The law of self-defense as just defined by the supreme court of the United States is to this effect: That if a man assailed on his own ground by one who he has reason to believe intends to do him bodily harm, he is not under the obligation to retreat, but may defend himself where he stands, and is within his right if in that defense he kills his assailant.

—Milesburg's council is to have a new meeting house. The present structure being inadequate to the governmental needs of the town the Albert Open property has been secured by an exchange of the old council building and $50 boot. It is proposed that the new Milesburg hook and ladder company will occupy the first floor of the building.

—The officers holding the November election will not be entitled to the increased pay provided by recent act of assembly. The constitution provides that the pay or emoluments of elective officers cannot be increased or diminished during their term of office. As the election officers were elected last February they will have to serve at the election in November and February at the old rates. The clerks, however, will get the increased compensation.

—While in Bellefonte on Thursday Mr. L. W. Washburn, the showman, negotiated with a number of our young men here to accompany him the balance of the season as one of his leading bands. Those who will go are a number from Coleville, a couple from Milesburg and some from Bellefonte, in all about a dozen or fifteen. They go to take the place of the colored band whose term expires on Monday next. They will join the show at either Philipsburg or Huntingdon on Monday. This will be a good chance for the boys to see the country, if they don't back out, and they say they will not.

A Bad Fall.

At a picnic at Port Matilda on Saturday last John Young, aged about twelve years, son of William Young of that place, fell from a swing to the ground, a distance of about twenty feet, and broke the bones of both legs a few inches above the knees. There were some stone where the lad alighted and one leg was considerably cut from the fall, and his chin was also cut by coming in contact with a stone. It is thought the lad alighted on his knees and the weight and force of his body caused the bones of his legs to snap in two. The swing is a wooden one, and it was about level with the fastening on the tree when the boy's feet slipped, and losing his grip at the same time he fell. Another lad was on the tree at the time but he did not fall. Dr. Ewing of this place rendered the necessary assistance, and the injured lad is getting along nicely.

—The promiscuous picnic season in this locality is now about at an end, and everybody will be in good shape to attend the grangers picnic at Centre Hall next week.

—Recorder Morrison seems to be one of those "Kombi" fiends. You want to watch out when you are near him or he will take you before you know it. He always keeps his machine handy.

—James McConkey will this week hold his bible reading on Friday afternoon in the W. C. T. U. rooms, in Crider's Exchange. The time is at a quarter of four o'clock. Everybody invited.

—The difficulty between the faculty and the prospective junior class will likely be settled by the former allowing the latter five weeks in which to make up the deficiency in the history examination.

—Hon. Volney B. Cushing will lecture in the court house on Saturday evening September 21st. Mr. Cushing is one of the most celebrated temperance orators of the times, and everybody who can should go to hear him.

—The remains of Dr. R. L. Dartt were brought from Philadelphia on the late train Tuesday evening and taken to his late home on Allegheny street, from where the funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at three o'clock.

—The report published in this paper on Saturday of the international yacht race at New York, was read with much interest by everybody. It was the only intimation any one had of how the race was going, and for the report we are indebted to Mr. Kirk, of the broker's office.

—The farmers have about completed their seeding and are now busily engaged cutting their corn and making cider. Both these occupations are proving bigger jobs than was anticipated earlier in the season, as both the apple and the corn crops have turned out to be quite large.

—And now that the Centre county Veteran Club has started the ball rolling in the Curtin monument movement, it is to be hoped that it will be kept going, and that the various G. A. R. post throughout the state will respond promptly and freely.

—And now there are a couple papers in this place which will soon be fighting for the honor of telling the people which one of them was the first to tell their readers that the nail works would soon be put in operation; when the whole fact of the matter is that the DAILY NEWS is always the first to tell anything reliably.

—Saturday's Williamsport Grit contained a picture and a brief sketch of the life of Francis Speer, of this place. The reading matter was all right, but if we were Francis we would sue that correspondent for libel for publishing such a picture of us. It looks more like Andrews, the man who was hung for the murder of Clara Price than it does like our brother editor.

—On Wednesday evening of next week, September 18th, the wedding of Mr. Chas. Cruse and Miss Rebia Garman, daughter of Daniel Garman, will take place in the Episcopal church. The ceremony will be a private one. After a brief tour the young couple will go to housekeeping in the residence of Mr. Edwin Garman, on Linn street, and Ed will move to the rooms in his father's house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Levan. We extend congratulations to the young couple.

—The special car to Louisville which left Bellefonte on Saturday evening bound for the G. A. R. encampment, carried about thirty old soldiers from this place, and would take on one or two at Milesburg, a few at Unionville and some more at Tyrone. A few of the comrades, who had intended going, were detained at home at the last moment. Among those were Mr. W. B. Maitland, who had fully expected to go, but on Saturday received a telegram to go to work this morning and inspect the boilers at the nail works, and as he felt like giving this work his personal attention, he could not possibly join the old soldiers in their trip.

—Though this has been court week again there has been very few cases tried. This was not because there were few to try, but owing to the fact that those that were tried, were all so long that it took up so much time of the court. Up until last evening only two cases had been up for trial, and these two of only limited importance. The first was the case of the poor overseers against Austin Linn, to recover money said to have been overcharged, and the plaintiff's got a verdict. The second case was that of Wilson vs. Downing, an action to test the validity of a mortgage. This case was on trial during the whole days, in which many witnesses were heard on both sides.

DEATH OF DR. DARTT.

He Dies in the Hospital, in Philadelphia, on Monday.

In Monday's NEWS we made mention of the extremely critical condition of Dr. R. L. Dartt, at the Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia, where he had gone to have an operation performed for internal cancer. At the time we got our latest news before going to press, he was resting quite easy, but the doctors had no hopes of his recovery from the time the operation was performed, and about four o'clock on Monday he died. His case was positively hopeless from the beginning, as the doctors informed him at once.

Dr. Robert L. Dartt was a native of Wellsboro, Tioga county, where he was born about forty-two years ago. His early life was spent there until he entered the Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia, from where he graduated and received his degree in March, 1875. He at once came to Bellefonte and opened up an office and began the practice of medicine in accordance with the homeopathic school. He was remarkably successful from the start, and soon succeeded in building up quite a large practice from which in the intervening years he acquired quite a competence, and now was considered in very comfortable circumstances, financially.

He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Lida Gregg Lieb, a sister of the late Prof. David M. Lieb, and a granddaughter of the eminent Gen. Gregg, so well known in history. By this marriage he had two children yet living, both boys, namely, John L. and Robert L., aged 14 and 11 years respectively. His first wife died about six years ago and several years later he married a Miss Austin. The result of this union was two children, both of whom are living, and they with their mother and the two boys above mentioned, are left to mourn their loss.

The remains were brought to Bellefonte Tuesday evening and the funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

The Stealing Goes On.

Thieves have been plying their nefarious trade again along the ridge road in Warriorsmark township, Huntingdon county. Friday night last they entered the premises of John Shank and took therefrom two dozen of chickens just ready for market. The same gang, no doubt, stole several bushels of oats from the bin of Rev. G. P. Sarvis at Port Matilda Saturday night. For a year or more past thieves have been prowling about the premises of citizens along the Bald Eagle valley and in Warriorsmark valley, and their booty in the aggregate amounts to more than the victims can afford to lose.

The day of reckoning will surely come and then there will probably be a shaking up of things in such a manner as to have a good wholesome effect. The thieves are known to live in the Bald Eagle Valley and it would pay them infinitely better to get their bread by honest toil than to lounge about by day and with all the risks of the disreputable work, at night stealing from their industrious and honorable neighbor. The court would doubtless have little mercy upon such a gang if properly presented before it, and it won't be the fault of these suffering people if the offenders are not finally apprehended.

Peterson—Decker.

Mr. Christian O. Peterson, of Staten Island, New York, reached Bellefonte Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. He came through a severe storm on Monday, the large hail stones breaking the car windows. He says that on Monday night he saw four barns burning, they having been set on fire by the severe lightning that prevailed.

On the same morning Miss Angeline Decker arrived from Lemont. She is a well known and popular young lady of that place.

By some means Mr. Peterson and Miss Decker found themselves in the office of Recorder Rumberger. There Mr. Harry Jackson made out a marriage license for them.

They at once hunted up Rev. R. L. Gearhart, pastor of the Reformed church, who united them in the bonds of holy matrimony. The 2 o'clock train on the Lewisburg road conveyed them to Lemont, where they will be located for some time to come. Congratulations.

Entertainment by the Blind.

This evening, the 12th, Prof. L. B. McKeen, organist, pianist and vocalist, assisted by his wife and Miss C. W. Sisson, the renowned elocutionist, will give one of their delightful entertainments in the Presbyterian chapel. The entertainment will be free but a SILVER COLLECTION will be taken up. Everybody is invited to come. All the above are very strongly endorsed by both the press and public. Don't forget the date. s0-4t.

Death of Mrs. Bennison.

A telephone dispatch from Capt. Bennison Tues. morning conveyed the information of the death of his mother, which occurred about nine o'clock at her home in Howard. Deceased was aged about 85 years, and was a woman well known in the community in which she lived. She is survived by two sons and three daughters. The funeral will take place on Thursday, services to be held at her late home in Howard at 10 o'clock, after which the remains will be taken to the cemetery below Jacksonville, where interment will be made.

VETERAN CLUB'S PICNIC.

Two Thousand People Present and a Good Time Generally.

Although when Saturday morning dawned it looked very much as if the day was going to be a bad one for the picnic, it finally cleared up and the weather up until nearly evening was all that anyone could desire; and the Centre County Veteran's Picnic and annual reunion at Hunter's Park was a success in every particular. About two thousand people were present during the day, and the crowd was kept in constant good humor and well entertained with music by the superior Coleville and State College bands and James Whittaker's drum corps.

The train in the forenoon was a little late going up and it was well on to twelve o'clock when Gen. Beaver called the meeting to order, and the first thing on the program was the appointment of committees, and the following were appointed a committee on officers for the ensuing year:

Dr. Theo. S. Christ, of College; W. H. Shultz, of Boggs; George Loner, of Halfmoon; J. R. Pheasant, of Howard; H. K. Miller and S. H. Williams, of Bellefonte, and W. C. Patterson, of State College. A committee of thirteen from all over th county was also appointed on place of meeting for next year.

By this time the noon hour had drawn around, and as old soldiers are always hungry, the tattoo was beaten as a signal, and it is needless to say that no second call was needed, as one and all responded as quickly as they did in those days way back in '61 and '62, and everybody was trying to see if he could not eat more than his neighbor.

After dinner the committee on officers reported as follows: For President, Gen. James A. Beaver; Vice Presidents, Geo. M Boal and W C Patterson; Secretary, W H Musser; Treasurer, John Hamilton. They were all unanimously elected. The committee on place of meeting next year reported in favor of Hecla Park, and it was so voted.

Then came the speech making, and very interesting addresses were made by Gen. D M Gregg, Dr. George W Atherton, Prof John Hamilton, R A Cassidy, George T Michaels, of Lock Haven and others. After the speech making Gen. Beaver presented the following, which was unanimously adopted:

"The Veteran Club of Centre county, in annual meeting assembled, in view of the death of Hon. A G Curtin, an honorary member of the Club, on the 7th of October last, and in view of the action of the Club at its last meeting in reference to an effort to secure a Soldier's Monument in Centre County, and in view of the changed conditions which now confront us, in reference thereto, by reason of the death of Gov. Curtin, and of late legislation in reference to soldier's monuments, hereby places upon record its deliberate judgment in reference to the importance and the desirability of the erection of a statue to perpetuate the memory of Hon. Andrew G Curtin, the War Governor of Pennsylvania, in Bellefonte.

"We appeal to every old soldier in Pennsylvania to aid in the erection of such a monument. We invoke the cooperation and assistance of Grand Army Posts and other Veteran Organizations. We pledge ourselves to an immediate and determined effort to a successful result in reference thereto; and, in order to contribute our share towards the erection thereof, we do hereby appropriate out of funds in the hands of the Treasurer the sum of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars, and direct the officers of the Club to subscribe toward the Curtin Monument Fund."

On motion, the above was unanimously adopted. The balance of the day was spent in general conversation and an exchange of cordial greetings, until evening when all adjourned to their homes, feeling that another milestone in their lives had passed into the great beyond.

Street Loafers Arrested.

On Monday night the police arrested two young men named Meese and Flack, for street loafing and loud and boisterous conduct. This kind of carrying on has been allowed to continue until it has become an intolerable nuisance, and it is high time that something is being done to put an end to it. There is too much loafing on the street corners by persons who have no regard for themselves, nor no respect for anybody else. The police have been notified to put a stop to it, and they now mean to do so, if they have to arrest the entire number of boys and young men who persist in such conduct.

—At the home of Mrs. Fasic on Tuesday evening, her daughter, Miss Edith, was united in marriage to Mr. David McNeil.

—Although squirrel season has been at its height for almost two weeks there have not yet been reports of very many large returns.

—A young child of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Barlett died on Tuesday afternoon. The child's name was Clarence H. Barlett, and was aged 2 years, 2 months and 27 days. Its death was caused by dysintery. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

A New Play Coming.

Jule Walters, the highly amusing comedian, will present his new comedy drama, "A Money Order," written by Seymour S Tibbals, at the opera house on Monday evening, Sept. 16th. This play has already proven itself to be a great success in the larger cities and promises to become even more popular than Mr. Walters' former success. The plot deals with every day life and contains some strong dramatic sensational scenes as well as amusing comedy situations. The stage settings for "A Money Order" have been given special attention, and are said to be very picturesque. Mr. Walters promises to be surrounded by a capable company of artists of recognized ability, and a truly enjoyable performance can be looked for on the presentation of "A Money Order" here.

Marriage Licenses.

Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by Orphans' Court Clerk, G. W. Rumberger, during the past week:

P. S. Ishler and Ella M. Mayes, of Boalsburg.

David A. McNeal and Edith M. Fasic, of Bellefonte.

Wm. F. Knoff, of Oak Hall, and Edith L. Meyer, of Pleasant Gap.

Sylvanus G. Richards and Minnie Morrison, of Sandy Ridge.

Christian O. Peterson, of Staten Island, N Y., and Angeline Decker, of Lemont

Personal Pencilings.

Miss Coup, of Boalsburg, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Fisher, on Water street.

Mrs. J. L. Seibert returned on Tuesday from a several days' visit with friends in Philadelphia.

J. C. Meyer and H. Sechler are in Lancaster attending the State convention of Democratic clubs.

Miss Whittaker, of Curwensville, is at present visiting Miss Grace Luckenbach, in this place.

Mrs. Lynch Gardner, of Roanoke, Va., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Long, on Reynold's avenue.

We are sorry to note the fact of the illness of Rev. James P. Hughes, who has been confined to his bed for a week or so.

Mr. C. M. Bower has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to journey away from home on business again.

Mrs. James Rickard, accompanied by her two daughters, Misses Effie and Hannah, of Lock Haven, are visiting friends in Bellefonte.

Mr. B. C. Achenbach attended the Milton fair this week and had a good time looking just what Bellefonte will have when it gets its fair.

Miss Helen Hastings, daughter of Gov. and Mrs. Hastings, is lying ill with bronchitis at the home of Col. B. F. Gilkeson, at Bristol, Pa. Mrs. Hastings is with her.

Lee B. Woodcock has returned from his summer stay at Cape May looking the very picture of health. While there Lee made quite a record as a ball player with the Cape team.

—"Doctor" W. W. Pettingill, last heard of in Williamsport, is roaming around the street of Bellefonte again to-day, and he looks and acts very much as he did when last here.

Mr. Lee B. Woodcock will teach for Prof. Hughes in the Academy until next week, when he will depart to enter Jefferson's Medical College, of Philadelphia, for a four year's course in medicine.

Mr. Will Goodwin, the organist in the Episcopal church, after an extended vacation spent in the cities and at the sea shore, has returned to Bellefonte. And now the organ will not be minus a key any longer.

The Summer Inspections.

Inspector General Morrell has just completed his report of the summer inspections at the encampments of the several brigades of the Pennsylvania National Guard. He commends the system of parading the commands in light marching order, and says that future inspections will be held during the last days of the camps. The condition of the clothing, equipments and rifles throughout the division was good, but he recommends that the enlisted men be not required to wear white collars. Rather than adopt the new rifle, he suggests that the State should contract for putting in first class condition the arm at present used. He calls attention to the fact that in the recent camps battalion majors made use of a paper containing the movements that were to be executed, and says that this must not occur again upon penalty of having charges of incompetence made against such officers.

Col. Morrell says there has been considerable improvement in guard duty, but it still falls far short of the standard. The guard mounts were good, but in some regiments, particularly, in the Second brigade, there was a total absence of supernumeraries, and he recommends that guard duty be given double the value of any other item at future inspections. He indorses the suggestion of Col. Thomas J. Hudson that the old field pieces attached to each battery of artillery be condemned, and that in their place should be supplied new breech loading guns lighter than those recently furnished. He recommends the adoption of the three battalion formation, either throughout the brigades or in one brigade at a time.

State's Foot Ball Team.

Prof. George E. Hoskins, physical Director of the Pennsylvania State College announces the following as the make up of the foot ball team for the coming season:

The team, which has been at practice since the 3rd of September, is composed almost entirely of new men, only five old men being on this eleven. The full schedule of games to be played has not yet been made out, but the first home game will be played with Gettysburg on September 28th.

The freshman class this year is one of the largest that has ever entered the College, and it contains some good athletic material. One of the men, Spalding, is a good runner, and has already, without any practice, made the 100 yards dash in 10 2-5 seconds, and the 220 yards dash in 24 2-5 seconds.

"A Money Order."

Jule Walter's new play "A Money Order" by Seymour S. Tibbals, is a comedy drama constructed upon original lines. While the characters introduced are the counterparts of people we meet every day. The story and action of the piece is new to the stage. The work shop, farm and home are happily blended together in a manner that is pleasing to the masses. The comedy is bright and clean, the pathos, pure and simple. A sermon lies hidden in its story, but is so gracefully told that the audience learns the lesson without realizing it until the final curtain falls. In Demosthenes Plato Potts, Mr. Walters has a character that commands your sympathy while he makes you laugh, and calls for your respect at all times. It is an unique and original part.

A Car Load of Tickets.

The contract for printing the admission tickets to the Cotton States and International Exposition has been let to the Globe Ticket company, of Philadelphia. There will be a different ticket for each day, and thirty thousand of each ticket will be printed. It will be so arranged that on special days, when it is probable that over one hundred thousand admissions will be sold, a different series can be put on, thus using up three or four series in one day. The tickets will be printed at once, and will make an even car load in all—one of the biggest single shipments of tickets ever printed in America.

Picnic and Ox Roast.

One of the attractions at Hecla park this week will be the first annual picnic and ox roast of Golden Link castle, Knights of the Mystic chain, of Bellefonte, on Thursday Sept. 12. A special feature of the day will be an ox roast which will be free to everybody. Some of the best bands in the county have been secured and lodges from Altoona, Tyrone, Houtzdale and Osceola have signified their intention of attending. A good orchestra will be in attendance to furnish music for dancing throughout the day. Time of special trains will be announced later.
